Nicaragua Charges Territory Violated By Costa Rica Planes

Somoza, Calling Situation Tense, Warns U. S., OAS

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 19 (AP)—Costa Rica threw its new air force into action over the northwest combat zone today and brought a bristling charge of a border violation from President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua.

Somoza called the situation "very tense" and warned: "The United States and the Organization of American States must be responsible if (President) Figueres attacks Nicaragua with planes they put in his hands."

Somoza put his own air force on a 24-hour alert and said it would begin a patrol of the border with four P47 fighter planes tomorrow.

Nicaragua also is known to have 25 World War II type U. S. fighter planes recently purchased from Sweden.

U.S., OAS Criticized

Somoza at a news conference in Managua sharply criticized the United States and the OAS for providing planes for Costa Rica. He said his 25 planes bought from Sweden had arrived in Managua in crates and that it would be a week before one or two of the 25 would be ready to fly.

"It may be too late by then," he added.

He said he had received no reply to his urgent request to the United States for four fighter planes to match those sold Costa Rica.

An authoritative source here said Costa Rican pilots in F51s were in action over LaCruz, a town in Northwest Costa Rica near the Nicaraguan border. They shot up a light plane on an airfield near LaCruz, damaged a tractor and shot up a house.

Government Begins Push

Government troops supported by aerial bombing from a converted airliner began today what may be a decisive push to crush rebel forces in the northwest.

The high command said ground action through midafternoon had been limited to small patrol skirmishes, but added that actions of major importance might develop.

Over the northwest combat sector, the crew of the converted airliner tossed oxygen tanks filled with explosives from the plane to give the Loyalist drive an aerial punch.

Government casualties in today's action were listed at one dead and three wounded.

Crosby "Excellent" Following Operation

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Jan. 19 (AP)—Bing Crosby, 50, had a kidney stone removed today and he came through the operation in "excellent conditon."

The crooner was in the surgery ward at St. John's Hospital four hours and under surgery for two hours and 15 minutes. Dr. Frederick C. Schulmberger told reporters he removed a stone and performed "certain reconstructive procedures" to prevent more stones from being formed. He said Crosby had a kidney stone removed in 1951.

Israeli Budget

JERUSALEM, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Israeli Cabinet agreed today to propose a budget of 631 million dollars for the next fiscal year.

Congress To Get Economic Report From President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — President Eisenhower will send to Congress tomorrow his 10-year program for boosting the economy from a business sag to a 500-billion-dollar yearly production rate.

In the last of his three major messages to the new Congress, the annual economic report, Eisenhower is expected to forecast for 1955 a year of record or near-record peacetime prosperity.

Total output of goods and services last year was about 357 billion dollars, or 2 per cent below the 1953 record. It was on the rise at the year-end and showed promise of at least regaining the lost ground.

But the President already has acknowledged that the recovery is "marred" by spotty unemployment. Therefore he is expected to lay heavy stress on measures designed to swell the nation's payrolls by stimulating the expansion of industry.

The measures, many of them foreshadowed in the State of the Union and budget messages, include:

Stepped-up federal aid, in "partnership" with state and local governments, for highway's, harbor, airport, and resources development.

Intensified efforts to withdraw the government from competition—or the threat of competition—with private business; while simultaneously keeping credit sufficiently easy to promote residential and business construction, plant expansion, and the redevelopment of decaying city centers.

Expansion of foreign trade through a liberalized tariff policy.

Cost-cutting within the government to permit tax reductions as soon as possible—not in 1955 but probably in 1956.

Ban On Liquor, Pets At Housing Projects Lifted

HOPEWELL, Va., Jan. 19 (AP)—A controversial order banning alcoholic beverages and pets from two local housing projects has been canceled by the Hopewell Redevelopment and Housing Authority.

The order, issued earlier this month by project manager Ernest J. Connelly, a Sunday School teacher and former junior college history instructor, was rescinded by the Authority after a closed session last night.

Connelly said terms of the tenants' leases banned immoral and illegal conduct and he called liquor drinking immoral. He said he felt the 198 families "needed someone to take care of them." His order also specified that tenants could not use light bulbs stronger than 60 watts.

Sheppard, Denied Bail, Will Attend Father's Funeral

CLEVELAND, Jan. 19 (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, denied bail today, will be permitted to leave jail to attend the funeral of his father tomorrow.

Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, 64, died last night of a respiratory ailment only 11 days after the suicide of his wife, Ethel, 62.

Their 31-year-old youngest son, convicted Dec. 21 of second degree murder in the bludgeon death of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, attended his mother's funeral Jan. 19. His father's funeral will be tomorrow at a suburban Lakewood mortuary.

Judge Harry A. Hanna said Sheppard may attend under guard.

Sheppard, whose attorneys have appealed for a new trial or a reversal of the verdict, was denied release on bail by the same three appellate judges who yesterday delayed his transfer to Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus to start a life term in prison. He would be eligible for parole 10 years after he enters the penitentiary.

Airliner Crash Lands, 39 Aboard Walk Away

DEXTER, Iowa, Jan. 19 (AP) — A United Air Lines passenger plane made an emergency landing in a field south of here, 20 minutes after leaving Des Moines airport late today.

The plane, a two-engine Conviar, was badly damaged but the 39 on board were able to walk away.

Mrs. Moss Wins Reinstatement To Pentagon Job

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, twice suspended from Army employment after Sen. McCarthy said she had been tagged as an ex-Communist, won reinstatement to a non-sesitive job in the Pentagon today.

Secretary of Defense Wilson intervened personally in her case. After a study of the record, he said it "does not support a conclusion that she is actually subversive or disloyal to the United States." He added in a letter to Secretary of the Army Stevens:

"There is, however, clear indication of certain derogatory information occurring prior to 1946." He did not say what it was.

Wilson told Stevens the case had been a matter of concern to him and that he thought it would be "fair and proper" to offer Mrs. Moss, a middle aged Negro, a non-sensitive post without access to classified information.

The Army subsequently announced she would be reassigned to the Finance and Accounts Office of the Army's chief of finance for work involving "the processing of fiscal expenditures in whch no security information is contained."

It also said she would be reimbursed for wages lost during the time she was suspended.

"I'm glad it's all over," Mrs. Moss said at her lawyer's office. "But I can't say I'm glad it happened to me. I really don't know how it got started in the first place."

McCarthy could not be reached for comment.

Ike Proposes UN Try To End Chinese War

President Discounts Importance Of Isle Lost By Nationalists

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed today that the United Nations "take a look" at the possibility of halting the shooting between Nationalist and Communist Chinese.

At the same time, Eisenhower discounted at a news conference the military importance of Yikiangshan, the little island which apparently has fallen to the Chinese Reds, and of the nearby Tachen islands which came under attack today from a Communist aerial armada.

The cease-fire talk seemed to leave a sour taste in the mouths of Chinese Nationalists—and of Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California, advocate of stronger measures against the Red Chinese.

At the State Department, the Chinese Nationalist foreign minister, George Yeh, emerged in seeming anger from a conference with Secretary Dulles. He said he was going back to Formosa "where I belong." However, he added that his trip was arranged 10 days ago.

Many Nibbles Total Bite

At the Capitol, Knowland had no direct comment on Eisenhower's call for a U. N. cease-fire attempt but he said:

"On Nov. 15 of last year, I pointed out the danger of a coexistence policy which might lead the Communist world into open nibbling. The first nibble has taken place, small though it may be, and a series of small nibbles will amount to a big bite."

This presidential news conference reached a couple of new milestones.

For the first time in history, television, newsreel and still cameras were permitted to take it all in. Then the White House okayed large parts of it for release later on. The intention is to continue the practice in the future, but not to permit "live" televising.

Then, too, this conference came on the eve of the second anniversary of Eisenhower's inauguration as president.

"Loaded Question"

How does the President like his job after two years of it?

Eisenhower paused, smiled again, and remarked: "Like everything else, there is not wholly unmixed blessings in such duties."

How would he appraise these first two years, and what are his hopes for the next two—or maybe even the next six?

Joining in a round of laughter at another attempt to feel him out on a second term, the chief executive said it looked like "a loaded question." Then he went into a serious summary of his first two years in office.

It added up to the idea that the outlook is good "from the standpoint of our internal economy" and that the foreign situation, while by no means rosy, looks better and more stable.

Man In Iron Lung Dies As Fuse Fails

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 19 (AP)—A fuse blew today and snuffed out the life of a man who had been kept alive in an iron lung for five years.

Henry Ciesla, 44, of Lackawanna, paralyzed by a nerve disease, died in Meyer Memorial Hospital after the respirator stopped, before a blown fuse could be replaced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The United States today slapped another retaliatory restriction on Russians in this country: They are forbidden to photograph or sketch anything of strategic importance.

Likewise, under a formal notice given by Secretary of State Dulles to Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin, the Russians are forbidden to buy aerial photograph, large-scale maps or navigational maps of the American scene. Detailed development plans of industrial cities are included in the ban.

This move, like the one of Jan. 3 making areas in 40 states off limits to Russian citizens, was frankly retaliatory for rules the Russians have imposed on American citizens in Russia. Dulles told Zaroubin in a note:

"If the Soviet Union should hereafter conclude that the international situation were such that security requirements enabled itt o liberalize its regulations restricting photography and sketching by United States citizens in the Soviet Union and to make available to them materials of the types noted above, this government would in turn be disposed to reconsider its own security requirements in the same spirit."

The American ban on sketching and photographing would include but not be limited to, such things as radio installations and railway stations.

It applies to all Russian citizens in this country except those for whom the United Nations in New York is responsible. The total number affected is estimated at about 400.

Nationalists Sink China Red Ships

Chiang's Planes Hit Back After Tachens Attack

TAIPEH, Formosa, Thursday, Jan. 20 (AP)—Nationalist warplanes scourged Communist shipping along nearly 300 miles of the southeast China coast yesterday in retaliation for a Red 200-plane attack on the Tachen Islands, the Defense Ministry said.

The Ministry claimed waves of Nationalist planes sank 17 Red ships—most of them small—and damaged at least 5 others. The strike ranged from Swatow, 230 miles west of southern Formosa, to Haitan Island, across the strait from the northern tip of Formosa.

Big Guns Hit Reds

Simultaneously, Nationalist Artillery on Quemoy poured 500 shells into nearby Chiaoyu Island in Amoy harbor, smashing many artillery positions, the Defense Ministry said. It was the heaviest Nationalist bombardment from Quemoy since last September.

The Communists early yesterday quickly followed up their invasion of Yikiangshan. They sent their largest force of bombers and fighters yet unleashed in the civil war against the Tachens, eight miles south of Yikiangshan and 200 miles north of Formosa.

While the Communists claimed Yikiangshan fell swiftly in Tuesday's invasion and similar reports were received in Washington, the Defense Ministry said the Red report was a lie and the guerrillas still fought on.

All Ships Sunk Small

A communique asserted the tiny island was "still firmly in the hands of our guerrillas who were bravely fighting in pools of blood."

Another communique said that "as a retaliatory measure against Communist indiscriminate bombing of the Tachen Islands, large numbers of Chinese air force fighter-bombers launched punitive attacks this afternoon on Communist armed vessels along the southeast China coast."

The communique showed that all ships claimed as sunk were small. The largest claimed as damaged were 2,000-ton supply ships in Swatow Harbor.

Administration Backs UN Effort To Free Airmen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today backed up further United Nations efforts to free American airmen from Red China prisons but warned that "direct action" may be necessary if the U. N. moves fail.

President Eisenhower discussed the situation at a news conference and Secretary of State Dulles met for 90 minutes with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold at the State Department. These events produced the following developments:

1. Dulles told Hammarskjold there is a strong sentiment in this country for "direct action" to obtain release of the fliers but that "for the time being" President Eisenhower will leave the handling of the case up to the United Nations.

2. Eisenhower, who had breakfasted with Senate Republican Leader Knowland for a discussion of the Red China problem, made clear to reporters that he disagreed with Knowland's estimates that Hammarskjold's mission to Peiping earlier this month had proved a failure. The negotiations won't be a success, the President said, "until the Americans and Allies held in China are returned to their homelands." On the other hand he continued, "they are certainly not a failure as long as they are going on."

"That would be just as incomprehensible," the President said, "as to admit defeat in a battle as long as you have got one man on the firing line. I would never admit that, so I don't think we are defeated there."

Eisenhower said he could not say how long the United States would be willing to let the U. N. handle the problem but that so long as a man of Hammarskjold's character thinks he is making progress he should have full opportunity to do what he can.

Nautilus May Make Her First Dive Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Navy said today initial trials of the Nautilus "have thus far been satisfactory" and the history-making, atomic-powered submarine may make her first dive tomorrow.

The Nautilus returned to Groton, Conn., at 1 p.m. (EST) today after 50 hours of surface trials.

The Navy said the Nautilus will move into Long Island Sound again tomorrow for further surface and submerged trials.

Emergency Landing

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Jan. 19 (AP)—A TWA airliner carrying 40 passengers and a crew of three from Pittsburgh to New York made a safe emergency landing at a small airport near here tonight. A TWA spokesman said the landing was made after there was indication of a fire in the heating system.

Four Convicts Tell Chaplain Of Grievances

Priest And Physician Optimistic Following Talk With Prisoners

BOSTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — Four armed convicts, holding five guards hostages in ancient Massachusetts State Prison, tonight listed their grievances, indicating for the first time they might settle for less than freedom.

Catholic Chaplain the Rev. Edward F. Hartigan and Dr. Samuel Merlin talked with the rebel convicts for 90 minutes tonight and Father Hartigan said both he and Dr. Merlin are "optimistic as to the eventual outcome."

The priest said "the men are still determined to hold out" but he added they also talked about "injustices" in the state criminal code by which men are "sentenced for very long terms which take from their hearts any hope."

Previously, the convicts—barricaded in a cellblock section of the prison since 5 a.m. Tuesday after a jailbreak failed—had stated flatly their only demand was "out." The state answered "no deal."

Hostages Well Treated

Father Hartigan, weary and tense from sleepless nights and several trips into the rebel cellblock, said the convicts were "very courteous, respectful and talkative, indicating a desire to lay bare their problems."

He said the hostage guards, one of whom is ill, "have been given every consideration and courtesy. No officer has been mistreated."

Earlier, the escape-mad convicts—long-termers all—had spurned pleas of relatives and ignored the law enforcement power of the state of Massachusetts.

Shortly before the chaplain and the doctor began their trek to the isolated cellblock, the brother of rebellious convict Fritz Swenson talked with his brother by telephone from the warden's office.

Daughter's Plea Fails

And state Public Safety Commissioner Otis M. Whitney paraded a National Guard M41 tank from Ft. Devens in front of the prison windows as a show of force.

There are 15 men penned in the cell block—the four rebels who want out, the five guard hostages, and the six other convicts.

Father Hartigan reported he has seen three pistols in the rebels' hands. Green claims they have five.

Authorities adopted a waiting policy—unwilling to risk lives of the five guards. Green has warned, "for every shot fired at us, a guard dies."

Key Demos Urge Early Drive For Income Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — Several key Democrats on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee today suggested an early drive for a general income tax cut. House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) promptly indicated his support.

Democrats talked of reviving a proposal for a $100 increase in individual exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent. That would reduce revenues 2½ billion dollars over a full year and relieve about four million low-income or big-family taxpayers from any federal income tax bill.

As an alternative, some spoke of allowing a taxpayer to take off $20 for himself and each dependent from his tax bill. This would reduce revenues only $1,400,000,000.

They said these proposals, if adopted, should take effect next July 1 or Jan. 1.

Cubans See Miniature Korea In Costa Rica

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 19 (AP)—Two Cuban war correspondents previously reported killed in Costa Rica turned up here today and predicted the Costa Rican revolution will be a miniature Korea.

The Cubans are Antonio Llano Montes and Jose Profirio Gonzales, both of Havana. They said four other correspondents—three from the United States and a Canadian—captured with them by rebels Friday near Santa Rosa in Northwestern Costa Rica had decided to remain with the rebel forces.

The Cubans said both sides in Costa Rica have great passion for their causes and predicted the war will develop into a bloody fight as a miniature model of Korea.

Bomb Planted In Car Kills Wife Of Wealthy Architect

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—A 38-year-old Houston business man was picked up tonight for questioning in the San Angelo bomb death earlier today of Mrs. Harry E. Weaver.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—A nitroglycerine bomb connected to the starter of a wealthy architect's car blasted his 52-year-old wife to death today with a roar that shook this entire West Texas city.

Mrs. Harry E. Weaver died minutes after her mangled body was taken to a hospital.

Demolition experts from the state Department of Public Safety worked tonight trying to determine if other cars used by the Weavers and relatives had been booby-trapped also.

Meanwhile, the district attorney began presenting evidence to the Tom Green County grand jury. He said there was a possibility charges might be filed tonight in the fatal blast.

He refused to comment other than to say he was working with information furnished by the husband and other members of the family.

The blast came at 8:30 a.m. Weaver was inside the big, old fashioned home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Harris, when his wife left to keep a beauty parlor appointment.

The explosion was caused, police believe, when Mrs. Weaver stepped on the starter of one of four cars parked around the house. The terrific blast was heard all over this West Texas sheep ranching center. It shattered windows of a nearby clinic.

Ike's First Pictorial News Conference On Gabby Side

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower made history today with a weekly news conference that turned out to be so gabby history almost was caught flat-footed.

For the first time, cameramen were allowed to take pictures of one of democracy's finest institutions. Previously they had been permitted in occasionally for a shot or two, but were shooed out before the questioning began.

One of the television boys today showed up with 1,200 feet of film, enough for around 30 minutes. When the conference threatened to run far beyond that, he finally had to shut off his camera and save the last few feet for any emergency that might develop.

Fortunately, none developed, the conference ran 33 minutes, and the TV man reported with a sigh of relief:

"Used 1,173 feet of film. Don't think we missed much."

Under the conditions laid down in advance, none of the newsreel or TV film, or the sound, could be used until the White House gave its okay.

Here's the reason for that: Without special permission, the President never is quoted directly. So presumably the White House officials who worry about such things wanted to make sure the words were right before releasing them.

Other than the TV man who was caught short, everything seemed to go fairly smoothly.

Then, too, this conference came on the eve of the second anniversary of Eisenhower's inauguration as president.

"Loaded Question"

How does the President like his job after two years of it?

Eisenhower paused, smiled again, and remarked: "Like everything else, there is not wholly unmixed blessings in such duties."

How would he appraise these first two years, and what are his hopes for the next two—or maybe even the next six?

Joining in a round of laughter at another attempt to feel him out on a second term, the chief executive said it looked like "a loaded question." Then he went into a serious summary of his first two years in office.

It added up to the idea that the outlook is good "from the standpoint of our internal economy" and that the foreign situation, while by no means rosy, looks better and more stable.

Man In Iron Lung Dies As Fuse Fails

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 19 (AP)—A fuse blew today and snuffed out the life of a man who had been kept alive in an iron lung for five years.

Henry Ciesla, 44, of Lackawanna, paralyzed by a nerve disease, died in Meyer Memorial Hospital after the respirator stopped, before a blown fuse could be replaced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The United States today slapped another retaliatory restriction on Russians in this country: They are forbidden to photograph or sketch anything of strategic importance.

Likewise, under a formal notice given by Secretary of State Dulles to Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin, the Russians are forbidden to buy aerial photograph, large-scale maps or navigational maps of the American scene. Detailed development plans of industrial cities are included in the ban.

This move, like the one of Jan. 3 making areas in 40 states off limits to Russian citizens, was frankly retaliatory for rules the Russians have imposed on American citizens in Russia. Dulles told Zaroubin in a note:

"If the Soviet Union should hereafter conclude that the international situation were such that security requirements enabled itt o liberalize its regulations restricting photography and sketching by United States citizens in the Soviet Union and to make available to them materials of the types noted above, this government would in turn be disposed to reconsider its own security requirements in the same spirit."

The American ban on sketching and photographing would include but not be limited to, such things as radio installations and railway stations.

Bomb Planted In Car Kills Wife Of Wealthy Architect

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—A 38-year-old Houston business man was picked up tonight for questioning in the San Angelo bomb death earlier today of Mrs. Harry E. Weaver.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—A nitroglycerine bomb connected to the starter of a wealthy architect's car blasted his 52-year-old wife to death today with a roar that shook this entire West Texas city.

Mrs. Harry E. Weaver died minutes after her mangled body was taken to a hospital.

Demolition experts from the state Department of Public Safety worked tonight trying to determine if other cars used by the Weavers and relatives had been booby-trapped also.

Meanwhile, the district attorney began presenting evidence to the Tom Green County grand jury. He said there was a possibility charges might be filed tonight in the fatal blast.

He refused to comment other than to say he was working with information furnished by the husband and other members of the family.

The blast came at 8:30 a.m. Weaver was inside the big, old fashioned home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Harris, when his wife left to keep a beauty parlor appointment.

The explosion was caused, police believe, when Mrs. Weaver stepped on the starter of one of four cars parked around the house. The terrific blast was heard all over this West Texas sheep ranching center. It shattered windows of a nearby clinic.

Nationalists Sink China Red Ships

Chiang's Planes Hit Back After Tachens Attack

TAIPEH, Formosa, Thursday, Jan. 20 (AP)—Nationalist warplanes scourged Communist shipping along nearly 300 miles of the southeast China coast yesterday in retaliation for a Red 200-plane attack on the Tachen Islands, the Defense Ministry said.

The Ministry claimed waves of Nationalist planes sank 17 Red ships—most of them small—and damaged at least 5 others. The strike ranged from Swatow, 230 miles west of southern Formosa, to Haitan Island, across the strait from the northern tip of Formosa.

Big Guns Hit Reds

Simultaneously, Nationalist Artillery on Quemoy poured 500 shells into nearby Chiaoyu Island in Amoy harbor, smashing many artillery positions, the Defense Ministry said. It was the heaviest Nationalist bombardment from Quemoy since last September.

The Communists early yesterday quickly followed up their invasion of Yikiangshan. They sent their largest force of bombers and fighters yet unleashed in the civil war against the Tachens, eight miles south of Yikiangshan and 200 miles north of Formosa.

While the Communists claimed Yikiangshan fell swiftly in Tuesday's invasion and similar reports were received in Washington, the Defense Ministry said the Red report was a lie and the guerrillas still fought on.

All Ships Sunk Small

A communique asserted the tiny island was "still firmly in the hands of our guerrillas who were bravely fighting in pools of blood."

Another communique said that "as a retaliatory measure against Communist indiscriminate bombing of the Tachen Islands, large numbers of Chinese air force fighter-bombers launched punitive attacks this afternoon on Communist armed vessels along the southeast China coast."

The communique showed that all ships claimed as sunk were small. The largest claimed as damaged were 2,000-ton supply ships in Swatow Harbor.

Administration Backs UN Effort To Free Airmen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today backed up further United Nations efforts to free American airmen from Red China prisons but warned that "direct action" may be necessary if the U. N. moves fail.

President Eisenhower discussed the situation at a news conference and Secretary of State Dulles met for 90 minutes with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold at the State Department. These events produced the following developments:

1. Dulles told Hammarskjold there is a strong sentiment in this country for "direct action" to obtain release of the fliers but that "for the time being" President Eisenhower will leave the handling of the case up to the United Nations.

2. Eisenhower, who had breakfasted with Senate Republican Leader Knowland for a discussion of the Red China problem, made clear to reporters that he disagreed with Knowland's estimates that Hammarskjold's mission to Peiping earlier this month had proved a failure. The negotiations won't be a success, the President said, "until the Americans and Allies held in China are returned to their homelands." On the other hand he continued, "they are certainly not a failure as long as they are going on."

"That would be just as incomprehensible," the President said, "as to admit defeat in a battle as long as you have got one man on the firing line. I would never admit that, so I don't think we are defeated there."

Eisenhower said he could not say how long the United States would be willing to let the U. N. handle the problem but that so long as a man of Hammarskjold's character thinks he is making progress he should have full opportunity to do what he can.

Nautilus May Make Her First Dive Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Navy said today initial trials of the Nautilus "have thus far been satisfactory" and the history-making, atomic-powered submarine may make her first dive tomorrow.

The Nautilus returned to Groton, Conn., at 1 p.m. (EST) today after 50 hours of surface trials.

The Navy said the Nautilus will move into Long Island Sound again tomorrow for further surface and submerged trials.

Emergency Landing

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Jan. 19 (AP)—A TWA airliner carrying 40 passengers and a crew of three from Pittsburgh to New York made a safe emergency landing at a small airport near here tonight. A TWA spokesman said the landing was made after there was indication of a fire in the heating system.

Red Cross On Job

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 19 (AP)—The International Red Cross Committee offered today to send a Swiss observer to the fighting zones in Costa Rica to supervise treatment of prisoners and wounded by both sides.

Four Convicts Tell Chaplain Of Grievances

Priest And Physician Optimistic Following Talk With Prisoners

BOSTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — Four armed convicts, holding five guards hostages in ancient Massachusetts State Prison, tonight listed their grievances, indicating for the first time they might settle for less than freedom.

Catholic Chaplain the Rev. Edward F. Hartigan and Dr. Samuel Merlin talked with the rebel convicts for 90 minutes tonight and Father Hartigan said both he and Dr. Merlin are "optimistic as to the eventual outcome."

The priest said "the men are still determined to hold out" but he added they also talked about "injustices" in the state criminal code by which men are "sentenced for very long terms which take from their hearts any hope."

Previously, the convicts—barricaded in a cellblock section of the prison since 5 a.m. Tuesday after a jailbreak failed—had stated flatly their only demand was "out." The state answered "no deal."

Hostages Well Treated

Father Hartigan, weary and tense from sleepless nights and several trips into the rebel cellblock, said the convicts were "very courteous, respectful and talkative, indicating a desire to lay bare their problems."

He said the hostage guards, one of whom is ill, "have been given every consideration and courtesy. No officer has been mistreated."

Earlier, the escape-mad convicts —long-termers all—had spurned pleas of relatives and ignored the law enforcement power of the state of Massachusetts.

Shortly before the chaplain and the doctor began their trek to the isolated cellblock, the brother of rebellious convict Fritz Swenson talked with his brother by telephone from the warden's office.

Daughter's Plea Fails

And state Public Safety Commissioner Otis M. Whitney paraded a National Guard M41 tank from Ft. Devens in front of the prison windows as a show of force.

There are 15 men penned in the cell block—the four rebels who want out, the five guard hostages, and the six other convicts.

Father Hartigan reported he has seen three pistols in the rebels' hands. Green claims they have five.

Authorities adopted a waiting policy—unwilling to risk lives of the five guards. Green has warned, "for every shot fired at us, a guard dies."

Key Demos Urge Early Drive For Income Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — Several key Democrats on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee today suggested an early drive for a general income tax cut. House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) promptly indicated his support.

Democrats talked of reviving a proposal for a $100 increase in individual exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent. That would reduce revenues 2½ billion dollars over a full year and relieve about four million low-income or big-family taxpayers from any federal income tax bill.

As an alternative, some spoke of allowing a taxpayer to take off $20 for himself and each dependent from his tax bill. This would reduce revenues only $1,400,000,000.

They said these proposals, if adopted, should take effect next July 1 or Jan. 1.

SINGAPORE, Jan. 19 (AP)—British Far East Air Force headquarters said today that about four million dollars will be spent "to make Malaya the front line of Southeast Asia aerial defense."

Cubans See Miniature Korea In Costa Rica

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 19 (AP)—Two Cuban war correspondents previously reported killed in Costa Rica turned up here today and predicted the Costa Rican revolution will be a miniature Korea.

The Cubans are Antonio Llano Montes and Jose Profirio Gonzales, both of Havana. They said four other correspondents—three from the United States and a Canadian —captured with them by rebels Friday near Santa Rosa in Northwestern Costa Rica had decided to remain with the rebel forces.

The Cubans said both sides in Costa Rica have great passion for their causes and predicted the war will develop into a bloody fight as a miniature model of Korea.

Ike's First Pictorial News Conference On Gabby Side

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower made history today with a weekly news conference that turned out to be so gabby history almost was caught flat-footed.

For the first time, cameramen were allowed to take pictures of one of democracy's finest institutions. Previously they had been permitted in occasionally for a shot or two, but were shooed out before the questioning began.

One of the television boys today showed up with 1,200 feet of film, enough for around 30 minutes. When the conference threatened to run far beyond that, he finally had to shut off his camera and save the last few feet for any emergency that might develop.

Fortunately, none developed, the conference ran 33 minutes, and the TV man reported with a sigh of relief:

"Used 1,173 feet of film. Don't think we missed much."

Under the conditions laid down in advance, none of the newsreel or TV film, or the sound, could be used until the White House gave its okay.

Here's the reason for that: Without special permission, the President never is quoted directly. So presumably the White House officials who worry about such things wanted to make sure the words were right before releasing them.

Other than the TV man who was caught short, everything seemed to go fairly smoothly.

Benson Sees 'Great Decade' Ahead For American Farmer

Secretary Predicts Stability And Growth

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the trying years appear to be over and he forecast "a great decade ahead for American farmers."

Replying to critics who see no lift to dipping farm receipts in administration policies, he gave this appraisal:

"The small changes in farm income and farm prices between 1953 and 1954 suggest that most of the postwar adjustment has been completed and that we are in a period of comparative stability."

Benson offered his assessment of farm developments and prospects during a Senate Agriculture Committee session at which he and a State Department spokesman were quizzed closely on how the government seeks to rid itself of tremendous surplus purchases.

The secretary estimated surplus stocks now amount to about seven billion dollars. It was partly in hope of avoiding such pileups in the future that the Eisenhower administration drove across a system of flexible price supports in the last Congress.

The theory is that flexible props will discourage production in time of surplus, encourage it in years of shortage and thus avert perilous price dips.

Benson said all administration farm programs are working well.

He calculated farmers' net income this year should run close to the 12½ billions of last and that prices should average about the same as at present.

He told the committee a program for "the low-income farmer" is in the mill. President Eisenhower probably will send Congress a message on the subject, he added, although "it will contain nothing sensational."

Agriculture, Benson said, will benefit from "the growth and prosperity ahead of us to the extent it continues to apply science and technology to its production and merchandising."

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) pressed for comment on surplus disposal, contending the State Department has hindered sales abroad by consulting beforehand with competing nations. He said this permitted competitors to sneak in with lower bids. But Asst. Secretary of State Samuel C. Waugh denied the procedure had interfered with surplus exports.

Nixon Puts In Stint At Service Station

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Vice President Nixon, in a stunt to help the March of Dimes campaign against polio, changed his well-tailored coat for a mackinaw today and worked for half an hour at a filling station.

Turned out he should have changed his trousers, too. While filling one car's tank, he let the gasoline run over and the vice presidential pants got splashed.

"The guage was wrong," he explained.

Nixon put in his stint at a station near the State Department, recalling the days of his youth when he used to pump gasoline at Whittier, Calif. The station was donating its day's profits to the March of Dimes.

Longshore Official Found Slain In Car

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP) — A longshore official, involved in a union tug-of-war for waterfront power, was found shot to death today. He apparently had been taken for a gangland-type ride in his own car.

The victim, Walter C. Smith, 45, had been shot three times—in the head, the left side and the left arm. He also had suffered a savage beating.

Smith was an organizer for the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ind) and had been involved in recent jurisdictional disputes with the rival AFL longshoremen's group.

The body was slumped in the front seat of Smith's expensive 1954 convertible.

Dr. Elkins actually took office as president Sept. 1, 1954, but the inauguration ceremony was deferred to coincide with the 148th anniversary of the university's charter day.

Teacher Pay Boost Urged By Marland

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 19 (AP)—Pay raises for public school teachers were advocated by Gov. William C. Marland in a second appearance before the West Virginia Legislature today.

He didn't spell out how much the teachers' pay should be raised, nor where the lawmakers should look for the money.

Marland asked the lawmakers to provide either "a substantial salary increase" or "a smaller salary increase, plus social security."

Teachers were made eligible for Social Security under an act of Congress last year. Marland recommended that Social Security be added to the present teacher retirement system "through state financing."

He proposed also that a commission be named for the purpose of "seriously studying the educational problem in West Virginia."

In his address to a joint session of Senators and Delegates in the House chamber — the second of a series of three appearances before the Legislature—Marland discussed the teacher shortage and school construction needs.

The average worker in the United States loses about seven work days a year because of temporary illness.

'Copters Drop Food To Scots

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Britain's biggest airborne mercy mission sent 30 helicopters whirling over a desolate "white hell" in northern Scotland today, dropping food and medical aid for thousands of isolated villagers.

Europeans across the Continent battled snowdrifts, floods an landslides caused by the past week's blizzards. Storms and floods took at least 20 lives, and piled up property damage running into the millions.

U. S. airmen in lifejackets pushed rubber rafts through chill floodwaters to rescue stranded Germans from homes in the Zell district. Sweden had a rash of accidents on roads reduced to ribbons between snowbanks 12 feet high.

British air force transport joined navy helicopters and the 13,000-ton aircraft carrier Glory in Scotland's giant "Operation Snowdrop." By dusk tonight they had dropped food for 34 villages, plus tons of hay for sheep and cattle.

Helicopters brought out at least six sick persons from snowbound homesteads, among them two maternity cases and an 11-year-old boy with pneumonia.

Chemists have discovered methods for determining where opium was grown and hope to use the knowledge to help dope control programs.

Probers Report

Coffee Surplus Forecast; Beall Expects Price Cuts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—A Senate Banking subcommittee said today "there should be a surplus of coffee in the future" but cautiously refrained from predicting whether the price will be lower or higher than now.

However, Sen. Beall (R-Md) told a reporter that on the basis of prospective supply and demand figures "I see no reason why we can't expect further price reductions."

Reporting on its investigation of spiraling coffee prices early in 1954, the subcommittee said the sharp rise "was far beyond that to be expected" by normal operations of supply and demand.

Statistics in the report indicated there is no shortage of coffee on a world basis now. And forecasts for the next few years indicate constantly increasing surpluses.

The report listed several factors as responsible for last year's sudden jump in coffee prices which eventually took the retail tag for popular brands to as much as $1.34 a pound.

Among them, the subcommittee said, were the July, 1953, freeze in Brazil, the biggest producing country, which cut the crop by about 3½ million bags below estimates for the marketing year 1954-55; the inadequacy of crop estimating systems; shortcomings of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange which, the subcommittee said, "contributed significantly to the spiraling rise in coffee prices"; and the action of the Brazilian government in raising the loan rate from 1,200 ($51) to 1,500 ($64) cruzeiros per bag in December, 1953, and subsequently raising the minimum export price.

Dorothy McGuire And Hubby Make Up

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Pretty Dorothy McGuire finally came right out and said it today—she has kissed and made up with her husband, thus giving singer Julius LaRosa the cold, cold January air.

At the same time, her boss, TV star Arthur Godfrey, shrugged off all credit for the reconciliation. He said he's no cupid-type, although he's happy about the whole thing.

In Chicago, where he's playing an engagement, LaRosa was saying nothing.

Civil Liberties Group Appeals To Legislators

BALTIMORE, Jan. 19 (AP) — The Maryland Civil Liberties Committee has asked all of the State's congressmen to support measures to correct "serious abuses of civil liberties in the Federal security program."

The committee, an affiliate of the American Civil Liberties Union, sent letters to Maryland lawmakers in Washington urging the stand. They were signed by Fred E. Weisgal, Baltimore lawyer and chairman of the committee executive board.

The letter said the committee has received appeals for aid which resulted in clearance only after "severe financial loss and social" discredit.

The letter said in part:

"More recently, we have been even more disturbed by mounting evidence that the security program is depriving our nation of the services of scientists and others whom it desperately needs.

"A security program is essential, but improper administration and procedures threaten evils outweighing the advantages.

"When a charge against an employe is made, the first step should be to determine whether the activity of the employe, if a fact, in reality involves a security situation. In too many instances, a slipshod investigation brings anguish to honest, sensitive, loyal citizens.

"The second step is that, pending the outcome of the charges, the accused employe, rather than being immediately suspended without pay, should be removed to a non-sensitive position so as to safeguard both the country and the individual.

"The third step is that the decision in the case should be based on a uniform procedure designed to protect innocent individuals. Such safeguards should be:

"1. The charge should be specific rather than vague and indefinite.

"2. The accused should be furnished with adequate particulars to allow a proper defense.

"3. The accused should have the right to summon witnesses in his own behalf and to cross-examine opposing witnesses.

"4. Clearance, once granted, should not be revoked except on the basis of newly discovered evidence or a change to more sensitive employment.

"5. Clearance should be granted where the preponderance of evidence clearly shows that a relatively unimportant event in the remote past is negated by subsequent events.

"6. Proper appeals boards should be available, and their determinations should be subject to review in the Federal courts."

U.S. Plane In Distress Drops Bomb On City

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Jan. 19 (AP)—A U. S. Air Force plane in distress dropped a bomb on this city today, but nobody was hurt. It wasn't loaded.

The plane, a flying boxcar en route from Chateauroux, France, to North Africa, later landed safely at Bilbao.

The plane had engine trouble over this coastal city in bad weather and the pilot jettisoned part of his cargo, thinking he was over the sea, the American consul in Bilbao said. The practice bomb fell in the garden of the home of the duke of Mandas.

Hungarian Peasants Thank America For Flood Relief

GYOER, Hungary, Jan. 19 (AP) — Hungarian peasants, victims of the 1954 Danube flood, expressed "warmest thanks and deep gratitude" to the American people last week for American wheat and corn distributed by the Red Cross in this provincial town.

About 100 peasants summoned from nearby villages to receive their share of the aid sent by President Eisenhower, voiced their feelings to newsmen at the railway station.

"This is the first time I saw them smiling since the floods," said a truck driver who took one reporter to a nearby village. The truck held 48 bags, each containing 110 pounds of wheat and each to be the share of two families.

The sacks bear Red Cross markings and the inscription in Hungarian "gift from the American people."

Even the sacks will be used. "The kids will get trousers from them," the peasants said.

Flood victims of this area, 130 miles west of Budapest, get the biggest share of the American aid.

There were, however, some in the crowd who grumbled because they were omitted when local authorities compiled the list of recipients. In villages near this town an average of 10 families were left out for unknown reasons, peasants complained.

The happy ones who got their share, on the other hand, inquired how they could express their thanks to the American people. In one village, the local Communist party secretary who himself received aid planned to send a letter to the Budapest legation of the United States signed by all inhabitants of his village.

A surprising number of peasants who were eager to talk had relatives in the United States. Mihaly Gallei, 73, boasted he had spent 14 years in Cleveland. He insisted on speaking English and posed with a sack of wheat for a photograph.

Peasants also got a leaflet in which the government described what it did for them to rebuild their homes and rehabilitate their land.

"The assistance of the Soviet Union and the peoples' democracies has been the example of friendly cooperation between Socialist nations," the leaflet said. It did not mention President Eisenhower's aid.

The peasants, on the other hand, said they had not received any aid from Communist countries so far.

Retiring Officer Of Ober Law Says Red Underground Is Operating In Maryland

DENTON, Md., Jan. 19 (AP)—A retiring assistant to Maryland's attorney general said today persons ranging from "laborers and members of the bar to fairly wealthy people" have refused to answer questions about an alleged Communist underground in Maryland.

The statement was by Marvin H. Smith, whose resignation became effective yesterday. He was charged with enforcing the State Subversive Activities Act of 1949, known as the Ober Law.

"There is very definitely an underground organization (in Maryland)," Smith said. He added, however, "We haven't been absolutely convinced we had enough corroborating testimony to prosecute."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation in Baltimore said it had no comment on the existence of such an undercover organization.

There have been no prosecutions under the Ober Act since it was passed in 1949. Smith has been in charge of enforcing the act for nearly two years. He was a Republican appointee of Atty. Gen. Edward D. E. Rollins, defeated for re-election last November by C. Ferdinand Sybert, Howard County Democrat.

The act parallels the Federal Smith Act which makes it a crime to conspire to advocate or teach overthrow of the government by force.

Six Communist party figures in Baltimore were convicted under the Smith Act in April 1952. They went to prison the following January to serve terms of from two to five years.

Theirs was the only prosecution of its kind in Maryland history.

A Baltimore lawyer, Hyman Pressman, called Smith's statement "a shocking revelation."

Pressman demanded that the attorney general make public the names of attorneys and any public officials who have refused to answer questions of Smith's agents.

Smith said as he retired he felt sure that proper evidence would in time be gathered.

"You certainly want to make sure the first case under the law is as airtight as possible. Evidence is difficult to come by. You are dealing with a conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States—you don't expect it to operate in the open," he said.

Smith recommended enactment of a State law which could compel persons to testify in prosecutions under the Ober law with a grant of immunity from prosecution themselves.

Muskrat Skinning Contest Promises To Be Extra Good

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — In case you are interested in muskrat skinning, the annual contest in this sport at Cambridge, Md., promises to be extra good this year.

Indeed, Rep. Miller (R-Md) goes so far as to say it will be "truly a world series affair."

Miller said he bases his prediction for the Feb. 5 event on the promised participation of the muskrat skinning champion from Louisiana.

Sikorsky Awarded James Watt Medal

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Aeronautical pioneer Igor I. Sikorsky has been awarded the 1955 James Watt International Medal, one of the world's top honors in mechanical engineering.

The British Institution of Mechanical Engineers makes the award every two years on the birthday anniversary of James Watt, inventor of the high pressure steam engine.

Sikorsky, a naturalized American citizen, was born in Russia in 1889.

The citation accompanying the medal said it was awarded "in recognition of his life's work in applying science to the progress of mechanical engineering through pioneering development of aircraft of various types, multi-engined amphibians and particularly helicopters."

Southern W.Va. Schools Closed By Deep Snow

[By The Associated Press]

Severe winter weather spread a deep snow over Southern West Virginia early Wednesday, closing schools in at least five counties and indirectly accounting for the death of one person.

The victim, 47-year-old Mrs. Oleen Kirtley of Milton, was killed in a four-car collision on slippery U. S. 60 at Ona, Cabell County.

Eight to 12 inches of snow were reported in Mingo, McDowell, Raleigh, Wyoming, Nicholas and Summers counties. Most of the schools were reported closed in Raleigh, Mercer, Fayette, Summers and Wyoming counties.

D. W. Bryson, superintendent of schools, in Raleigh County, said the suddenness of the snow storm made it impossible for many children to reach their schools through the heavy drifts. Beckley College also suspended classes for the day.

Highways and city streets were slick throughout the storm area. The Road Commission said reports indicated highways in the northern and eastern sections of the state were relatively clear of snow.

Dangerous Criminals' Transfer Questioned

TOWSON, Md., Jan. 19 (AP) — State's Attorney John E. Raine Jr., of Baltimore County said today he doubts the transfer of dangerous criminals to Spring Grove State Hospital was legal and has asked the attorney general for an opinion.

Raine said he thinks such criminals might more properly be kept at the penal institutions to which they were originally sentenced.

The county prosecutor's move stemmed from the escape attempt last Saturday of five inmates of the maximum security ward at the institution in Catonsville.

One of the two who eluded police until the next morning has been charged with stabbing William Henderson, 28-year-old guard.

Man Dies In York Roofing Plant Fire

YORK, Pa., Jan. 19 (AP)—One man was burned to death today when fire leveled the S. & S. Roofing Co. at nearby Clay, causing an estimated quarter of a million dollars damage.

Two hours after the flames were brought under control the charred remains of a man's body were found buried under 80 five-gallon cans of coating material near an exit.

Identification was not immediately made but Wilbur Mansberger, plant foreman, said he felt sure it was the body of Paul Beard, 56, York Haven, R. D. 1. Beard, one of five employes in the building when the fire broke out was missing.

He was last seen running toward a shower room to get a coat as the roof went up in flames.

Md. Employment Picture Brighter

BALTIMORE, Jan. 19 (AP) — The employment picture in Maryland continued to brighten last week, state officials reported today, with the number getting jobless pay dropping 3,000.

There was another substantial decline in new claims.

The Department of Employment Security had predicted the seasonal year-end slump would not be as bad as it was a year ago. Last year there was no substantial employment recovery until spring.

The department said 26,453 were paid $635,762 last week, compared to $718,607 paid to 29,316 the previous week.

New claims last week totaled 4,692 compared to 5,559 the previous week and 7,991 a year ago. A year ago a total of 22,942 were paid $548,825 in unemployment benefits.

Third Boy Held In Theft Probe

HAGERSTOWN, Jan. 19 (AP)—An 18-year-old West Virginia youth, elder brother to one of the two boys being held for investigation into a series of thefts in the Hagerstown area, also was arrested today.

Detective Sgt. Norman Wolf said Frank Loveless, 18, of Charles Town, W. Va., was taken into custody there at the request of Hagerstown city police for questioning into the activities of the younger boys.

Wolf identified Loveless as the elder brother of one of a pair of boys who have admitted staging 45 or more burglaries in the Hagerstown area over the past year.

Wolf said Loveless' younger brother had implicated Frank in many of the larcenies. The boy told Wolf his brother had driven the two youngsters to the places where they staged many of their raids, and pointed out likely spots for them.

The younger boys, aged 16 and 13, were arrested yesterday, Wolf said the number of larceny cases they had admitted rose to 45 today as police confronted the pair with more unsolved cases and questioned the boys about them.

Forecaster Drops Corn Flake 'Snow'

BALTIMORE, Jan. 19 (AP) — Al Herndon flew over Baltimore today spreading a bushel of bleached corn flakes.

This fulfilled a promise he made Tuesday night to a television audience.

Girl Raped By Man Posing As Policeman

SUITLAND, Md., Jan. 19 (AP) — Police reported today a 12-year-old Suitland girl was raped yesterday by a man who flashed a badge, and posing as a policeman, ordered her into his automobile.

The officers said the man dropped the girl out of his car in Suitland with a warning not to tell anyone, but that she ran home and told her mother.

Retiring Officer Of Ober Law Says Red Underground Is Operating In Maryland

DENTON, Md., Jan. 19 (AP)—A retiring assistant to Maryland's attorney general said today persons ranging from "laborers and members of the bar to fairly wealthy people" have refused to answer questions about an alleged Communist underground in Maryland.

The statement was by Marvin H. Smith, whose resignation became effective yesterday. He was charged with enforcing the State Subversive Activities Act of 1949, known as the Ober Law.

"There is very definitely an underground organization (in Maryland)," Smith said. He added, however, "We haven't been absolutely convinced we had enough corroborating testimony to prosecute."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation in Baltimore said it had no comment on the existence of such an undercover organization.

There have been no prosecutions under the Ober Act since it was passed in 1949. Smith has been in charge of enforcing the act for nearly two years. He was a Republican appointee of Atty. Gen. Edward D. E. Rollins, defeated for re-election last November by C. Ferdinand Sybert, Howard County Democrat.

The act parallels the Federal Smith Act which makes it a crime to conspire to advocate or teach overthrow of the government by force.

Six Communist party figures in Baltimore were convicted under the Smith Act in April 1952. They went to prison the following January to serve terms of from two to five years.

Theirs was the only prosecution of its kind in Maryland history.

A Baltimore lawyer, Hyman Pressman, called Smith's statement "a shocking revelation."

Pressman demanded that the attorney general make public the names of attorneys and any public officials who have refused to answer questions of Smith's agents.

Smith said as he retired he felt sure that proper evidence would in time be gathered.

"You certainly want to make sure the first case under the law is as airtight as possible. Evidence is difficult to come by. You are dealing with a conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States—you don't expect it to operate in the open," he said.

Smith recommended enactment of a State law which could compel persons to testify in prosecutions under the Ober law with a grant of immunity from prosecution themselves.

Southern W.Va. Schools Closed By Deep Snow

[By The Associated Press]

Severe winter weather spread a deep snow over Southern West Virginia early Wednesday, closing schools in at least five counties and indirectly accounting for the death of one person.

The victim, 47-year-old Mrs. Oleen Kirtley of Milton, was killed in a four-car collision on slippery U. S. 60 at Ona, Cabell County.

Eight to 12 inches of snow were reported in Mingo, McDowell, Raleigh, Wyoming, Nicholas and Summers counties. Most of the schools were reported closed in Raleigh, Mercer, Fayette, Summers and Wyoming counties.

D. W. Bryson, superintendent of schools, in Raleigh County, said the suddenness of the snow storm made it impossible for many children to reach their schools through the heavy drifts. Beckley College also suspended classes for the day.

Highways and city streets were slick throughout the storm area. The Road Commission said reports indicated highways in the northern and eastern sections of the state were relatively clear of snow.

Man Dies In York Roofing Plant Fire

YORK, Pa., Jan. 19 (AP)—One man was burned to death today when fire leveled the S. & S. Roofing Co. at nearby Clay, causing an estimated quarter of a million dollars damage.

Two hours after the flames were brought under control the charred remains of a man's body were found buried under 80 five-gallon cans of coating material near an exit.

Identification was not immediately made but Wilbur Mansberger, plant foreman, said he felt sure it was the body of Paul Beard, 56, York Haven, R. D. 1. Beard, one of five employes in the building when the fire broke out was missing.

He was last seen running toward a shower room to get a coat as the roof went up in flames.

Md. Employment Picture Brighter

BALTIMORE, Jan. 19 (AP) — The employment picture in Maryland continued to brighten last week, state officials reported today, with the number getting jobless pay dropping 3,000.

There was another substantial decline in new claims.

The Department of Employment Security had predicted the seasonal year-end slump would not be as bad as it was a year ago. Last year there was no substantial employment recovery until spring.

The department said 26,453 were paid $635,762 last week, compared to $718,607 paid to 29,316 the previous week.

New claims last week totaled 4,692 compared to 5,559 the previous week and 7,991 a year ago. A year ago a total of 22,942 were paid $548,825 in unemployment benefits.

Third Boy Held In Theft Probe

HAGERSTOWN, Jan. 19 (AP)—An 18-year-old West Virginia youth, elder brother to one of the two boys being held for investigation into a series of thefts in the Hagerstown area, also was arrested today.

Detective Sgt. Norman Wolf said Frank Loveless, 18, of Charles Town, W. Va., was taken into custody there at the request of Hagerstown city police for questioning into the activities of the younger boys.

Wolf identified Loveless as the elder brother of one of a pair of boys who have admitted staging 45 or more burglaries in the Hagerstown area over the past year.

Wolf said Loveless' younger brother had implicated Frank in many of the larcenies. The boy told Wolf his brother had driven the two youngsters to the places where they staged many of their raids, and pointed out likely spots for them.

The younger boys, aged 16 and 13, were arrested yesterday, Wolf said the number of larceny cases they had admitted rose to 45 today as police confronted the pair with more unsolved cases and questioned the boys about them.

Forecaster Drops Corn Flake 'Snow'

BALTIMORE, Jan. 19 (AP) — Al Herndon flew over Baltimore today spreading a bushel of bleached corn flakes.

This fulfilled a promise he made Tuesday night to a television audience.

Girl Raped By Man Posing As Policeman

SUITLAND, Md., Jan. 19 (AP) — Police reported today a 12-year-old Suitland girl was raped yesterday by a man who flashed a badge, and posing as a policeman, ordered her into his automobile.

The officers said the man dropped the girl out of his car in Suitland with a warning not to tell anyone, but that she ran home and told her mother.

Muskrat Skinning Contest Promises To Be Extra Good

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — In case you are interested in muskrat skinning, the annual contest in this sport at Cambridge, Md., promises to be extra good this year.

Indeed, Rep. Miller (R-Md) goes so far as to say it will be "truly a world series affair."

Miller said he bases his prediction for the Feb. 5 event on the promised participation of the muskrat skinning champion from Louisiana.

Dangerous Criminals' Transfer Questioned

TOWSON, Md., Jan. 19 (AP) — State's Attorney John E. Raine Jr., of Baltimore County said today he doubts the transfer of dangerous criminals to Spring Grove State Hospital was legal and has asked the attorney general for an opinion.

Raine said he thinks such criminals might more properly be kept at the penal institutions to which they were originally sentenced.

The county prosecutor's move stemmed from the escape attempt last Saturday of five inmates of the maximum security ward at the institution in Catonsville.

One of the two who eluded police until the next morning has been charged with stabbing William Henderson, 28-year-old guard.

Sikorsky Awarded James Watt Medal

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Aeronautical pioneer Igor I. Sikorsky has been awarded the 1955 James Watt International Medal, one of the world's top honors in mechanical engineering.

The British Institution of Mechanical Engineers makes the award every two years on the birthday anniversary of James Watt, inventor of the high pressure steam engine.

Sikorsky, a naturalized American citizen, was born in Russia in 1889.

The citation accompanying the medal said it was awarded "in recognition of his life's work in applying science to the progress of mechanical engineering through pioneering development of aircraft of various types, multi-engined amphibians and particularly helicopters."

Home Rule Action Needed For Voteless Bond Issue

The City of Cumberland apparently still has to wait for the enactment of a bill that would set up the machinery for its home rule before issuing any bonds for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant water main.

Tuesday, H. Warren Buckler of Baltimore, bond counsel for several Maryland communities, said at a joint-Senate-House judiciary committee in Annapolis that Cumberland may go ahead with its bond issuing plans because it has the authority to do so under the present charter.

Contacted yesterday by City Attorney Thomas B. Finan, Buckler clarified his statement by declaring he was speaking in generalities.

Finan emphasized that the city could hold a referendum on the issuing of $500,000 bonds for the water main, but it is the wish of the Mayor and Council to avoid this costly expense.

Under the city code, the city can float bonds upon a special election, and the approval of a majority of those voting on a water department bond issue. A two-thirds majority is needed on other city bond issues.

The attorney general's office ruled last week that the home rule amendment became law November 19 after it was approved by the voters November 2.

The ruling stated that Crisfield and Cumberland would have to wait until the General Assembly enacts the home rule mechanics bill that sets up the "ground rules" for more self-government by Maryland's incorporated municipalities.

Wage Of County Teacher Among Lowest In Maryland

Allegany County's teachers' pay scale ranks among the lowest brackets of the state, according to the latest wage figures presented by the county teachers' association.

The minimum pay scale has teachers beginning at $2,700 a year with gradual raises over a period of years to $4,300.

Additional annual allowances are available for teachers who have masters' and doctors' degrees.

In 1960 when the Green Commission (the group that set up the graduated pay scale for state teachers) will be in effect, the teacher will be able to reach his top minimum pay in 11 years.

The lowest scales are those for Garrett, Charles, Dorchester and St. Mary's counties where the minimum starting wage is $2,500 with gradual increases up to $4,300. Charles County has a range of from $2,600 to $4,300.

Calvert and Somerset Counties have a pay bracket of from $2,600 to $4,400. Allegany comes next.

Others are Washington and Howard counties which have a range of from $2,800 to $4,500; Carroll, $2,850 to $4,450 with an increase scheduled this coming year; Talbot, $2,800 to $4,450; Wicomico, $2,800 to $4,400; Kent, $2,800 to $4,300; Worcester, $3,000 to $4,800; Anne Arundel and Cecil, $3,000 to $4,600.

Prince George's, $3,200 to $4,800; Frederick, $3,200 to $5,000; Harford, $3,200 to $5,000; Baltimore City, $3,200 to $5,400; Baltimore County, $3,300 to $5,400, and Montgomery, $3,350 to $5,450.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let your entrances and exits portray you as a woman of considerable charm and grace.

An advertising executive told me at lunch yesterday an interesting story of his first meeting with his wife. She applied to him for a copywriting job, and he was impressed both with her attractiveness and her air of competence as she entered his office for the interview.

"That first look created a wonderful impression, John," said my friend. "But it was the last look that really sold me. When Anne left my office, she was so pleasant and composed—even though I'd had to tell her the job was already filled — that I knew I wanted to see her again. When we did meet at a party shortly after the interview, I was certain she was the one girl for me!"

Different Air

What made Anne seem so different? Her air of complete assurance and composure, declared my friend. She practiced, and still does, one of the Powers Girls' rules for making an impression: Know what you are going to do before you do it . . . your entrance is important; your exit, even more, is the thing that's remembered.

To cross any threshold with confidence, take these simple precautions: Before you leave home, dress and groom yourself to the peak of self-satisfaction. Then forget your appearance, so that once you arrive your thoughts are free to focus on others present. En route, rehearse in your mind what you will do as you enter—whether you are entering a party or a business conference.

A gracious exit is equally, or more, desirable. Let your sense of timing be your guide as to the proper moment to leave the party, the meeting, or the interview. Say "thank you" if that courtesy is called for, then make your adieus sincerely and unhurriedly —but make them definite. The longer you hesitate, the more difficult and strained conversation will become.

Last Look

Doors are not designed as leaning posts, or as the setting for elaborate farewells. They are the means for a graceful and dignified exit, the more favorable the impression you leave behind. You never know how great the rewards that impression will bring!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let your entrances and exits portray you as a woman of considerable charm and grace.

An advertising executive told me at lunch yesterday an interesting story of his first meeting with his wife. She applied to him for a copywriting job, and he was impressed both with her attractiveness and her air of competence as she entered his office for the interview.

"That first look created a wonderful impression, John," said my friend. "But it was the last look that really sold me. When Anne left my office, she was so pleasant and composed—even though I'd had to tell her the job was already filled — that I knew I wanted to see her again. When we did meet at a party shortly after the interview, I was certain she was the one girl for me!"

Different Air

What made Anne seem so different? Her air of complete assurance and composure, declared my friend. She practiced, and still does, one of the Powers Girls' rules for making an impression: Know what you are going to do before you do it . . . your entrance is important; your exit, even more, is the thing that's remembered.

To cross any threshold with confidence, take these simple precautions: Before you leave home, dress and groom yourself to the peak of self-satisfaction. Then forget your appearance, so that once you arrive your thoughts are free to focus on others present. En route, rehearse in your mind what you will do as you enter—whether you are entering a party or a business conference.

A gracious exit is equally, or more, desirable. Let your sense of timing be your guide as to the proper moment to leave the party, the meeting, or the interview. Say "thank you" if that courtesy is called for, then make your adieus sincerely and unhurriedly—but make them definite. The longer you hesitate, the more difficult and strained conversation will become.

Last Look

Doors are not designed as leaning posts, or as the setting for elaborate farewells. They are the means for a graceful and dignified exit, the more favorable the impression you leave behind. You never know how great the rewards that impression will bring!

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD Jan. 19—(INS)—You'll soon be hearing the announcement of a mighty interesting company. Broadway Producer Josh Logan, who's been in Hollywood, and Elia Kazan have formed a company to make motion pictures.

Their very first will be "Fanny," the highly successful stage play, and their first star will be Ezio Pinza, who has the top male lead in this Broadway musical. This arrangement will be apart from the contract Kazan recently signed with Warner Brothers.

Kazan and Logan should be really a brilliant team. Logan has produced such stage hits as "South Pacific" and "Mister Roberts." To Kazan's credit are "On The Waterfront," "East Of Eden," "Streetcar Named Desire," and many more.

I'm not surprised that Joan Crawford is finding Cora Garrett's book, "Strange Houses," a best seller of the thirties, intriguing.

John Springer, an RKO publicist, will make his debut as a motion picture producer with the Garrett novel, a psychological suspense drama. James Terry and the American Producing Company will be associated with Springer.

Joan is waiting to see the script, and when I tell you that DeWitt Bodeen, who scripted "Enchanted Cottage," "I Remember Mama," and the horror picture, "The Cat People," is writing it, you'll know the chances are great that she'll accept.

Springer will produce "Strange Houses" in Lisbon and Portugal. DeWitt is writing the script with an eye to doing for Lisbon what "Third Man" did for Vienna and "Three Coins In The Fountain" for Rome.

Latest to affiliate his independent set-up with United Artists is Joseph Mankiewicz who has just signed a contract to deliver four of his Figaro Pictures films to Krim over a period of three years.

The first will be "The Story Of Goya" which starts after Mankiewicz delivers "Guys And Dolls."

Ava Gardner's "Barefoot Countessa" was a separate one-picture deal Mankiewicz had with U. A.

The Johnston office has issued an ultimatum to the two foreign press groups in Hollywood—the Hollywood Foreign Press Association and the Foreign Correspondents Association. They must combine their separate organizations or neither will be officially recognized.

Personally, I'm glad to hear this, because it is very confusing to know which of the two is giving this and that award, and which is giving this and that picture attention. There certainly is room for one important foreign press organization, but not for two.

One of the very nicest press agents in this town is Johnny Campbell. Harry Brand's boy, Johnny leaves tomorrow for Tokyo to handle "House Of Bamboo" for 20th.

The picture is being filmed on Tokyo Bay and the rest of the company, Robert Stack, Robert Ryan and Shirley Yamaguchi, leave from here on Monday.

Awaiting them will be Sessue Hayakawa, veteran actor, who at one time was one of the most important silent screen actors. Sessue has not been in a country for a long, long time. He was in Japan all during the war, having moved there to act in Japanese pictures.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Robert Francis is fascinated with Shelley Winters.

The little spark revived between Guy Mitchell and his ex, Jackie Loughery, is now colder than yesterday's newspaper. He was at the Crescendo with Betty Lee ("Miss Texas").

Mrs. Herbert Brenon is critically ill in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital. She's the wife of the pioneer director and the aunt of Eileen Brenon. Eileen is here to see her aunt and on business.

Real trouble for Bob Cummings. The three children have chicken pox and are quarantined. This means that Bob, too, is quarantined for one week and can't get out to do his TV show. But he has one filmed ahead.

Benay Venuta is giving a dinner for Ethel Merman Thursday night to watch Ethel's performance on the Chrysler "Shower Of Stars" TV show. They go first to the Chrysler cocktail party at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Mario Lanza reported at Warners for "Serenade" today. He's been in Palm Springs with his family.

The Pacific edition of Stars and Stripes has named Judy Garland the best performer of 1954 because of "A Star Is Born."

Otto Preminger has rented the home of Anatole Litvak at Malibu while he makes Rita Hayworth's comeback picture, "Joseph And His Brethren."

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

DAV Head Disputes Charge Of County Liquor Board

Harry L. Shoemake, commander of Frostburg Chapter 9, Disabled American Veterans, took issue yesterday with a citation Tuesday by the Board of License Commissioners for Allegany County.

The board cited licensees of the post for failure to have doors unlocked to permit inspectors of the board to enter on a number of occasions. The other licensee, besides Shoemake, is Robert L. Barr.

The citation declared the licensees must appear before the board Tuesday, February 1, to show why their license to sell intoxicating beverages should not be suspended or revoked.

Shoemake pointed out yesterday the post is a branch of a national organization and is "very well conducted according to the by-laws of the national department, and is open at all reasonable times for the inspection by any law enforcement officer.

"We would like for the liquor board to show us," Shoemake continued, "any law which requires us to have our doors open other than during business hours. It is impossible for this chapter to keep the doors of the chapter home open when there is no business from 11 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

"Apparently the inspectors," Shoemake said, "want us to stay open until 1 a. m. when our license calls for closing at midnight. The club is also open from 7 a. m. to 11 a. m.

"Our licensees were called before the board November 3, 1953, for a hearing because the inspectors could not get into the building whenever they were in town or felt like entering."

The above mentioned hearing was informal and at that time the board maintained that inspectors must be granted immediate entry when they appeared for purposes of checking.

Headquarters Slated In "Mothers Drive"

The headquarters for the Mt. Royal School area in the "Mothers Drive on Polio" will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ewald, 820 Greene Street.

Residents of that area who will participate in the appeal Friday, January 28, include Mrs. Robert Bruce, Mrs. Ralph Hoelzer, Mrs. Laurence Reed, Mrs. Louis Rice, Mrs. David McFarlane, Mrs. Albert Paye, Mrs. William Wendt, Mrs. Leonard Murphy, Mrs. Robert Ebert, Mrs. Albert List, Mrs. Joseph Naughton, Mrs. Richard Bruce.

Mrs. Gordon Bowie, Mrs. I. L. Morton, Mrs. Anthony Saeli, Mrs. Fuller Whitworth, Mrs. William Frey, Mrs. Fred Jenkins, Mrs. George Speis, Mrs. William Fridinger, Mrs. Paul Hilaire, Mrs. William Geppert, Mrs. Ellsworth Rosenmarkle, Mrs. William Torkington, Mrs. Milnor Bruce, Mrs. Max Shaffer, and Mrs. Earl Bruce.

Dr. R. W. Trevaskis Sr., secretary, will give a review of "Eternal Security," the subject discussed at the December seminar.

W. Carl Richards, moderator, will lead the discussion of "Uiothesia," the present subject of discussion.

Blaze Is Checked

Local Engineer Stops In Time

A local man was the engineer aboard the B&O's crack train, the Washingtonian, when it was flagged down Monday night in Montgomery County just in time to avert a possible tragedy.

The engineer, Earl O. Keyser, 409 Louisiana Avenue, was bringing the train into Washington when he was flagged down at Forest Glen by two members of the Montgomery County police force.

An automobile, operated by Mrs. Patricia R. Tiedemann, 44, wife of Rear Admiral Hollie J. Tiedemann, chief of the Office of Maritime Training, had stalled on the B&O tracks at Forest Glen. She had notified railroad officials of her predicament, and they in turn called the county police.

The troopers caught up with the Washingtonian about 600 feet from the stalled car, and Keyser applied his brakes so that the train was only traveling about four miles an hour when it hit the stalled auto.

Although the car was pushed about five feet down the track, damage was estimated at less than $300.

Kimble Is Named To Four Committees

State Senator Robert B. Kimble of Allegany County was appointed to four committees of the Senate for the current session.

He was named to the labor committee, joint committee on investigations, public buildings committee and education committee.

State Senator Clifford Friend, Garrett County, was named to the agricultural and natural resources committee, aviation, roads and transportation committee and public buildings committee.

Installation Postponed

The Sodality of St. Patrick's Catholic Church has postponed its formal installation of officers from last night until Wednesday of next week. The ceremony will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., at the church.

During the Reign of Terror in the French Revolution, more than 4,000 persons lost their heads under the guillotine.

Training Meet Set

Forestry personnel of the State Department of Forests and Parks in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties will meet Saturday in Allegany County Court House for a training meeting, William H. Johnson, district forester, announced yesterday.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD Jan. 19—(INS)—You'll soon be hearing the announcement of a mighty interesting company. Broadway Producer Josh Logan, who's been in Hollywood, and Elia Kazan have formed a company to make motion pictures.

Their very first will be "Fanny," the highly successful stage play, and their first star will be Ezio Pinza, who has the top male lead in this Broadway musical. This arrangement will be apart from the contract Kazan recently signed with Warner Brothers.

Kazan and Logan should be really a brilliant team. Logan has produced such stage hits as "South Pacific" and "Mister Roberts." To Kazan's credit are "On The Waterfront," "East Of Eden," "Streetcar Named Desire," and many more.

I'm not surprised that Joan Crawford is finding Cora Garrett's book, "Strange Houses," a best seller of the thirties, intriguing.

John Springer, an RKO publicist, will make his debut as a motion picture producer with the Garrett novel, a psychological suspense drama. James Terry and the American Producing Company will be associated with Springer.

Joan is waiting to see the script, and when I tell you that DeWitt Bodeen, who scripted "Enchanted Cottage," "I Remember Mama," and the horror picture, "The Cat People," is writing it, you'll know the chances are great that she'll accept.

Springer will produce "Strange Houses" in Lisbon and Portugal. DeWitt is writing the script with an eye to doing for Lisbon what "Third Man" did for Vienna and "Three Coins In The Fountain" for Rome.

Latest to affiliate his independent set-up with United Artists is Joseph Mankiewicz who has just signed a contract to deliver four of his Figaro Pictures films to Krim over a period of three years.

The first will be "The Story Of Goya" which starts after Mankiewicz delivers "Guys And Dolls."

Ava Gardner's "Barefoot Countessa" was a separate one-picture deal Mankiewicz had with U. A.

The Johnston office has issued an ultimatum to the two foreign press groups in Hollywood—the Hollywood Foreign Press Association and the Foreign Correspondents Association. They must combine their separate organizations or neither will be officially recognized.

Personally, I'm glad to hear this, because it is very confusing to know which of the two is giving this and that award, and which is giving this and that picture attention. There certainly is room for one important foreign press organization, but not for two.

One of the very nicest press agents in this town is Johnny Campbell. Harry Brand's boy, Johnny leaves tomorrow for Tokyo to handle "House Of Bamboo" for 20th.

The picture is being filmed on Tokyo Bay and the rest of the company, Robert Stack, Robert Ryan and Shirley Yamaguchi, leave from here on Monday.

Awaiting them will be Sessue Hayakawa, veteran actor, who at one time was one of the most important silent screen actors. Sessue has not been in a country for a long, long time. He was in Japan all during the war, having moved there to act in Japanese pictures.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Robert Francis is fascinated with Shelley Winters.

The little spark revived between Guy Mitchell and his ex, Jackie Loughery, is now colder than yesterday's newspaper. He was at the Crescendo with Betty Lee ("Miss Texas").

Mrs. Herbert Brenon is critically ill in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital. She's the wife of the pioneer director and the aunt of Eileen Brenon. Eileen is here to see her aunt and on business.

Real trouble for Bob Cummings. The three children have chicken pox and are quarantined. This means that Bob, too, is quarantined for one week and can't get out to do his TV show. But he has one filmed ahead.

Benay Venuta is giving a dinner for Ethel Merman Thursday night to watch Ethel's performance on the Chrysler "Shower Of Stars" TV show. They go first to the Chrysler cocktail party at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Mario Lanza reported at Warners for "Serenade" today. He's been in Palm Springs with his family.

The Pacific edition of Stars and Stripes has named Judy Garland the best performer of 1954 because of "A Star Is Born."

Otto Preminger has rented the home of Anatole Litvak at Malibu while he makes Rita Hayworth's comeback picture, "Joseph And His Brethren."

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

DAV Head Disputes Charge Of County Liquor Board

Harry L. Shoemake, commander of Frostburg Chapter 9, Disabled American Veterans, took issue yesterday with a citation Tuesday by the Board of License Commissioners for Allegany County.

The board cited licensees of the post for failure to have doors unlocked to permit inspectors of the board to enter on a number of occasions. The other licensee, besides Shoemake, is Robert L. Barr.

The citation declared the licensees must appear before the board Tuesday, February 1, to show why their license to sell intoxicating beverages should not be suspended or revoked.

Shoemake pointed out yesterday the post is a branch of a national organization and is "very well conducted according to the by-laws of the national department, and is open at all reasonable times for the inspection by any law enforcement officer.

"We would like for the liquor board to show us," Shoemake continued, "any law which requires us to have our doors open other than during business hours. It is impossible for this chapter to keep the doors of the chapter home open when there is no business from 11 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

"Apparently the inspectors," Shoemake said, "want us to stay open until 1 a. m. when our license calls for closing at midnight. The club is also open from 7 a. m. to 11 a. m.

"Our licensees were called before the board November 3, 1953, for a hearing because the inspectors could not get into the building whenever they were in town or felt like entering."

The above mentioned hearing was informal and at that time the board maintained that inspectors must be granted immediate entry when they appeared for purposes of checking.

Headquarters Slated In "Mothers Drive"

The headquarters for the Mt. Royal School area in the "Mothers Drive on Polio" will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ewald, 820 Greene Street.

Residents of that area who will participate in the appeal Friday, January 28, include Mrs. Robert Bruce, Mrs. Ralph Hoelzer, Mrs. Laurence Reed, Mrs. Louis Rice, Mrs. David McFarlane, Mrs. Albert Paye, Mrs. William Wendt, Mrs. Leonard Murphy, Mrs. Robert Ebert, Mrs. Albert List, Mrs. Joseph Naughton, Mrs. Richard Bruce.

W. Carl Richards, moderator, will lead the discussion of "Uiothesia," the present subject of discussion.

Central firemen were called yesterday at 10:34 a. m. to 152 Wineow Street when bales of cardboard ignited. The premises are occupied by Emmett A. Dougherty, waste paper dealer. There was no damage.

$5,500 Judgment Recorded In Court

A $5,500 judgment by agreement and settlement were filed yesterday ending a damage suit in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mary Florence Shriver, through her father and next friend Clarence C. Shriver, had brought the suit against Elizabeth Dohm, administratrix of the estate of Clarence Leon Muir. The girl was injured Christmas Eve 1953 in an accident near Pekin on Route 36 in which Muir was killed.

The gril was represented by Attorney Horace P. Whitworth Jr. The defendant was represented by Gunter and Geppert.

Highway Accidents Claim 45 Lives During December

During the month of December last year some 45 persons met death on Maryland highways bringing the total number of fatalities for the past year to 5.8.

The highest number of deaths occurred on Saturdays of the month, according to a report compiled by the Maryland State Police. Fourteen were killed.

Next highest days of the month were Tuesdays when 10 individuals met the "grim reaper." Five persons were killed on Mondays and Fridays; four on Sundays and Wednesdays and three on Thursdays of the month.

A reminder from the State Police, who patrol the highways in an effort to cut down on deaths, is:

"Highway Safety is Everybody's Business—Let's Stop This Killing."

Committee To Meet

Officers of the Private Duty Nurses of District 1 will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mary Weber, 812 Trost Avenue. The constitution and by-laws will be drawn up and presented at the general meeting of District 1.

House Committee Sets Hearing On Gas And Oil Bill

Rep. Lloyd L. Simpkins, chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Delegates, announced yesterday that a hearing will be held on House Bill No. 14 on January 26 at 3 p. m.

Dr. Joseph T. Singewald Jr., director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water resources, has recommended the bill for the regulation of oil and gas well drilling. Presently, the state has no effective control over gas and oil well drilling.

Would Require Bond

House Bill 14, which has the approval of the Garrett County delegation, would require that drillers must first post a bond before beginning operations. It would also regulate the casing, operation and plugging of the wells by the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

House Bill 14 was introduced by the Speaker of the House following a favorable report from the Legislative Council.

In 1953 the Assembly passed a model gas and oil conservation law which contained a provision requiring approval of the Garrett County Commissioners of any regulation affecting that county.

This resulted in a suit by one of the gas operators, in which the provision as to Garrett County was held invalid. The following year, the Garrett Delegation secured the repeal of the entire bill.

Is More Comprehensive

Senator Clifford Friend, Garrett County Republican, has introduced a similar but more comprehensive plan as Senate Bill 45.

His plan would create a state gas and oil board and give it power to regulate the drilling, production and marketing in Maryland.

The plan is patterned after legislation in effect in West Virginia, Virginia, North Dakota and Texas.

Scout Charter Presented To Local School

A charter was presented to Thomas B. Cumiskey Jr. in conjunction with the formation of Troop No. 6, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by SS. Peter and Paul Catholic School, Sunday.

Cumiskey is institutional representative of the newly-organized troop. Presenting the charter was Jack Beck, committee member of organization and extension for the Potomac Council of Boy Scouts.

At a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, Beck gave a talk on scouting.

Scout committee cards were presented to Rev. Marius J. Elsener, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul's Church; Rev. Kenan R. Crowley, chaplain of Boys; William Burkey, scoutmaster; Owen T. Cavanaugh, assistant scoutmaster; Ambrose McKenzie, explorer advisor; Thomas B. Cumiskey, institutional representative.

James Robertson, secretary; James Reinhart, treasurer; Raymond Madden, advancement; Z. F. Zimowski, outdoorman, and Lawrence Geiger, committee chairman.

A meeting of the scout committee and scouts parents was held following the presentation and plans were made for the annual covered dish supper to be held at St Mary's social hall on February 12 honoring the Boy Scouts and Explorers.

Mrs. Kay Cavanaugh, Mrs. William Fisher and Mrs. George O'Rourke will serve as co-chairmen for the supper.

Property Purchased

Charles V. Chapman and Ruth D. Chapman have sold property on the west side of Bowling Avenue in Bowling Green to Virgil L. Abe and Mary L. Abe, according to a deed filed for record Tuesday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Cattle Meeting Set Here February 10

The annual livestock and dairy cattle meeting for farmers of the area will be conducted at LaVale Fire Hall starting at 10 a. m. Thursday, February 10, County Agent Joseph M. Steger announced yesterday.

Steger emphasized the changed location. In recent years these meetings have been conducted at the City Hall. He said the new location will simplify the parking problem for the cattlemen attending. In addition the Firemen's Auxiliary will prepare lunch for them at the new location.

The county agent is lining up a number of informative speakers for the February 10 meeting.

$5,500 Judgment Recorded In Court

A $5,500 judgment by agreement and settlement were filed yesterday ending a damage suit in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mary Florence Shriver, through her father and next friend Clarence C. Shriver, had brought the suit against Elizabeth Dohm, administratrix of the estate of Clarence Leon Muir. The girl was injured Christmas Eve 1953 in an accident near Pekin on Route 36 in which Muir was killed.

The gril was represented by Attorney Horace P. Whitworth Jr. The defendant was represented by Gunter and Geppert.

Highway Accidents Claim 45 Lives During December

During the month of December last year some 45 persons met death on Maryland highways bringing the total number of fatalities for the past year to 5.8.

The highest number of deaths occurred on Saturdays of the month, according to a report compiled by the Maryland State Police. Fourteen were killed.

Next highest days of the month were Tuesdays when 10 individuals met the "grim reaper." Five persons were killed on Mondays and Fridays; four on Sundays and Wednesdays and three on Thursdays of the month.

A reminder from the State Police, who patrol the highways in an effort to cut down on deaths, is:

"Highway Safety is Everybody's Business—Let's Stop This Killing."

Committee To Meet

Officers of the Private Duty Nurses of District 1 will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mary Weber, 812 Trost Avenue. The constitution and by-laws will be drawn up and presented at the general meeting of District 1.

House Committee Sets Hearing On Gas And Oil Bill

Rep. Lloyd L. Simpkins, chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Delegates, announced yesterday that a hearing will be held on House Bill No. 14 on January 26 at 3 p. m.

Dr. Joseph T. Singewald Jr., director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water resources, has recommended the bill for the regulation of oil and gas well drilling. Presently, the state has no effective control over gas and oil well drilling.

Would Require Bond

House Bill 14, which has the approval of the Garrett County delegation, would require that drillers must first post a bond before beginning operations. It would also regulate the casing, operation and plugging of the wells by the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

House Bill 14 was introduced by the Speaker of the House following a favorable report from the Legislative Council.

In 1953 the Assembly passed a model gas and oil conservation law which contained a provision requiring approval of the Garrett County Commissioners of any regulation affecting that county.

This resulted in a suit by one of the gas operators, in which the provision as to Garrett County was held invalid. The following year, the Garrett Delegation secured the repeal of the entire bill.

Is More Comprehensive

Senator Clifford Friend, Garrett County Republican, has introduced a similar but more comprehensive plan as Senate Bill 45.

His plan would create a state gas and oil board and give it power to regulate the drilling, production and marketing in Maryland.

The plan is patterned after legislation in effect in West Virginia, Virginia, North Dakota and Texas.

Scout Charter Presented To Local School

A charter was presented to Thomas B. Cumiskey Jr. in conjunction with the formation of Troop No. 6, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by SS. Peter and Paul Catholic School, Sunday.

Cumiskey is institutional representative of the newly-organized troop. Presenting the charter was Jack Beck, committee member of organization and extension for the Potomac Council of Boy Scouts.

At a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, Beck gave a talk on scouting.

Scout committee cards were presented to Rev. Marius J. Elsener, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul's Church; Rev. Kenan R. Crowley, chaplain of Boys; William Burkey, scoutmaster; Owen T. Cavanaugh, assistant scoutmaster; Ambrose McKenzie, explorer advisor; Thomas B. Cumiskey, institutional representative.

James Robertson, secretary; James Reinhart, treasurer; Raymond Madden, advancement; Z. F. Zimowski, outdoorman, and Lawrence Geiger, committee chairman.

A meeting of the scout committee and scouts parents was held following the presentation and plans were made for the annual covered dish supper to be held at St Mary's social hall on February 12 honoring the Boy Scouts and Explorers.

Mrs. Kay Cavanaugh, Mrs. William Fisher and Mrs. George O'Rourke will serve as co-chairmen for the supper.

Property Purchased

Charles V. Chapman and Ruth D. Chapman have sold property on the west side of Bowling Avenue in Bowling Green to Virgil L. Abe and Mary L. Abe, according to a deed filed for record Tuesday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Cattle Meeting Set Here February 10

The annual livestock and dairy cattle meeting for farmers of the area will be conducted at LaVale Fire Hall starting at 10 a. m. Thursday, February 10, County Agent Joseph M. Steger announced yesterday.

Steger emphasized the changed location. In recent years these meetings have been conducted at the City Hall. He said the new location will simplify the parking problem for the cattlemen attending. In addition the Firemen's Auxiliary will prepare lunch for them at the new location.

The county agent is lining up a number of informative speakers for the February 10 meeting.

More Government Waste Disclosed

If any citizen is still wondering whether government expenditures can be reduced, he will find an answer in the series of reports soon to be issued by the bipartisan Hoover Commission on Governmental Reorganization. Some of the findings of this commission's task forces are so fantastic as to be unbelievable.

It is revealed, for example, that the government bought 800,000 pounds of tomato products on the West Coast and shipped them to the Atlantic Coast. It also bought 700,000 pounds of tomato products on the East Coast and shipped them to the Pacific Coast.

Other discoveries which will be the basis of the commission's recommendations are to the effect that the government engages in more than 1,500 activities which "can be regarded as competitive with those undertaken by private industry," and that American business is required by the government to spend a billion dollars a year filling out questionnaires of which "a large proportion are filed and forgotten."

These samples of waste constitute only a part of the picture. Regardless of the nature of the rest of them, they offer convincing evidence that the Hoover Commission's work should be continued and that Congress should give serious consideration to its proposals for reform in governmental procedures.

As long as there is widespread waste in government, few taxpayers will be impressed by contentions that taxes cannot be reduced because the government needs the money.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Character Assassination

When Herbert Hoover was President, the Democratic National Committee hired Charles Michelson to assassinate Mr. Hoover's reputation. Michelson devoted himself to the job affectionately. Hoover's career was investigated from the day of his birth and when nothing could be found to hurt his good name, it was manufactured with cynical skill.

This is the classical example of organized, subsidized character assassination. Herbert Hoover survived but many of those who sought to sully his good name have since died, including Charley Michelson who wrote a book on his infamies. Hoover, being a Quaker, has long forgiven the assassins; what is more, he has come to be on friendly terms with some of them, not taking their conduct too seriously. However, some of Michelson's falsehoods persist to this day to Mr. Hoover's amusement at the folly of men.

Nowadays, it has become improper to tell not only stories but the truth about political opponents, lest it involve "character assassination" which is a meaningless term politically because all politicians practise self-praise and point to the foibles of their adversaries. If the foibles are sufficient to bring about a man's defeat, it is generally regarded as the thing to do. But one must always expect the boar that has been stuck to shout, "Character assassin!"

When Woodrow Wilson was President, a smearing campaign was stimulated by his enemies dealing with his private life. This effort to destroy his character culminated in the hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee concerning the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis to the Supreme Court. Brandeis was innocent of any relationship to President Wilson's private life and if ever there was an attempt at character assassination, it was bringing him into the matter at all. But nobody called it such a fancy name then; they called it politics played to embarrass a president. That office was at that time not regarded as sacrosanct and no president dared to take himself too seriously.

Those who make such a big noise about character assassination engage in that art themselves when it is to their advantage. For instance, Senator Neuberger, the fledgling from Oregon, accused Vice President Nixon of character assassination, whereupon he proceeded to assassinate Nixon's character. Everybody's doing it, more or less. The constancy of a habit does not make it right, but when the pot calls the kettle black, the kettle might, with justice, do some hissing, which apparently Mrs. George Malone did.

Actually the looseness of our conversation concerning public men has this virtue, that it may occasionally remind the great men who govern us that they were not to the manner born, as indeed, no one is in our land where the sons of farmers and workers and miners emerge to the top. It is lese majeste to run down a king or a queen because they have purer blood than we have, not biologically but genealogically, if that matters. Here there are no genealogies that matter. The only recent president that owned one was Franklin D. Roosevelt whose ancestors were something or other before they migrated from Holland and France to live among the Indians.

The only way to keep great men from believing in their own publicity is to remind them of what they were before they began to wonder themselves on what meat they thrived so mightily. Also it is good to remind them that not every word they say is sacred; that not every trick they pull is divine revelation. If maturity means obeisance to the great, then we were a better country before we became mature. Maturity may be synonymous with senility.

Personally, I do not go in for character assassination because too few persons are worthy of the effort. Do I care whether a politician is an alcoholic; if his wife took in washing before he suddenly bought her a mink coat; or if a supposedly learned man never read anything more serious than a "whodunit"? It might be interesting but is it important, particularly if the official somehow manages to do his job and is not soft on Communists and does not lie more than is necessary to get elected and to stay in office?

This is a democracy which means that what the people do is ipso facto right even if it turns out to be stupid which it does sometimes happen.

Enigma

Boldness That Made America Great Reflected By GM

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The cynical in our midst who speak of American business men as standpatters or ultra-conservatives, timid about change and hesitant to move forward, would have been disillusioned if they could have attended the luncheon given by General Motors to several hundred of the top industrial and financial executives of the country.

Something of the imagination and boldness in planning which has made America the most powerful nation industrially in the world was reflected in the speeches made by Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board of the General Motors Corporation.

Sitting in the audience was Charles E. Wilson, former president of the corporation and now the secretary of defense and, if anybody had any doubt about that famous misquotation which was so widely circulated, he must have had such doubt removed. For it was plain from the speeches that what is good for America is what General Motors considers paramount for itself.

Confident About Future

Thus, just a year ago when the prophets of gloom were shaking their heads and predicting a depression, Mr. Curtice stood before the same group of business men and predicted that there would be a continuing high level of employment and consumer expenditures, with unprecedented housing starts and a gross national product not far from the 1953 level. But he startled his audience then by announcing that General Motors was planning an expansion program of a billion dollars, which has since grown by a half billion. Such was his confidence in the future.

This time Mr. Curtice was able to say "I told you so." For his 1954 prediction as to car sales and volume of business were right on the button. General Motors crossed the ten billion mark in sales, and the whole industry produced close to 7,000,000 auto units.

Mr. Curtice is optimistic about 1955, which he thinks will be a great year in business. He foresees a gross national product for 1955 of $370 billions, which is a three per cent increase over last year. He added:

"A worldwide strengthening of national economics is clearly evident. I was greatly impressed with the economic recovery in England and six European countries which I visited last fall . . . The increasing productivity and prosperity of the free world contributed added strength to our own economy."

Mr. Sloan was stimulating, too, as he presented, in extemporaneous remarks, his appraisal of the future. He said:

"The interesting thing is it took us 32 years to make the first 25 million automobiles and 14 years to make the second 25 million. Now how long it is going to take us in America to make the third 25 million? I won't make a prophecy. That belongs to Mr. Curtice but I venture to say it will be less than eight years."

Mr. Sloan pointed out that there has been an enormous expansion of auto plants abroad and that less and less export from America might be in prospect. He said that this was one reason why General Motors had just invested 200 million dollars in production facilities in England, on the continent of Europe, and in Australia.

Calling on business men to do more basic research, Mr. Sloan stressed the importance of scientific discovery and technological improvement. But his most significant statement was in relation to "the economic climate in which business is operating today." He declared:

"For over 20 years, we had all kinds of discouragement from the standpoint of national economic policies — repression of industry, lack of appreciation of the great force and power of expanding the economy. This is now finished and, as I forecast last year in supporting Mr. Curtice's program of a billion-dollar expansion, I make the point that we are entering an era wherein business will be encouraged by more incentive, eliminating many things that have held us back for so many years.

Suggests Bold Planning

"My plea to you gentlemen is this: Let us plan boldly in expansion and development. Don't let's wait until the thing is before us. Let's forecast that it is going to happen and let's go ahead and do the job before it happens. In that way, the job will be done in a bigger and better way than otherwise will occur."

This was a fitting supplement to the predictions of business growth made by Mr. Curtice as he declared that population by 1962 may total 184 million and that the number of households should increase from 48 to 54 million, "creating a tremendous demand for homes, motor vehicles and other goods and services."

Nowhere in the world, as the speakers indicated, has any industrial group demonstrated "such faith in the economy of its nation or such confidence in its own future as has the automobile industry."

It was an inspiring sermon of true progressivism for all business and industry.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Been some letters about diplomacy at the top-sergeant level. It got more results than a short circuit in an electric blanket.

Back in 1945 we were playing ball with both sides and trying to umpire too. An old China hand told me, "Don't waste pearls whether they're gems or onions."

We spilled plenty of brass-bound protocal in the Orient. Even if we had pushed the camel through the eye of the needle we couldn't have tied a knot in the thread.

While we were getting up pressure in the boiler room of the paper dragon our man lit out for Formosa. If there was anything we didn't need in 1945 it was another island.

Story of Guam, Philippines, Wake and the et cetera archipalago proves there are two things you cannot hold. One is an eel in the rain. The other is an island.

In these days of atomic worship an island is as vulnerable as a cardboard shirtfront in a laundry.

The Japs took 'em away from us and we took 'em back like the shuffle in two-handed canasta.

Chiang Kai-shek is firmly stagnated on Formosa with what the experts call an army-in-being. Translating that at the present rate of interest means it's being armed by us, it's being clothed by us and it's being fed by us.

We agreed with Washington recently that there is no active war. But there are many places you shouldn't look around a corner unless you have an extra head under your arm.

We mean there are still plenty of spots where a tourist should stay one jump ahead of his souvenir postcards.

Hardening Of Arteries, Diet Relationship Uncertain

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The relationship between diet and hardening of the arteries continues to be one of our leading research problems. There is enough proof to implicate certain fatty foods but many authorities are not convinced and have good reason for saying so.

Chemicals, such as cholesterol, are found normally in the blood and in the walls of the arteries. The amount is increased with advancing age, particularly when arteriosclerosis exists. It is only natural for diet to enter the picture because these fatty materials come originally from food.

Cholesterol made the headlines several years ago with the discovery that hardening of the arteries could be produced in chickens by adding the substance to their feed. Experiments on other laboratory animals have led to similar results but whether these findings are applicable to man remains questionable.

Diets low in fats and cholesterol do not always influence the cholesterol levels in the blood. Bile manufactured in the liver is rich in cholesterol and is not affected by what is eaten. Studies have shown that 10 to 20 times as much of this material reaches the intestine in bile as comes in through the food consumed.

If the body continues to manufacture its own cholesterol in this way, how can we expect to get anywhere through diet? It must not be disregarded entirely, however, because ample evidence can be demonstrated in favor of cholesterol and lipoproteins as a cause of arteriosclerosis.

As previously stated, the concentration of these chemicals in the blood mounts with the years. We have always thought that age has something to do with these higher blood levels but recent studies tend to inplicate the dietary habits.

Americans, Englishmen, and wealthy Spaniards eat more fat than do Italians and poor Spaniards. This is reflected in their blood cholesterol levels because elderly persons among the latter group show a low or normal percentage. This would not happen if age alone played a role.

Another recent study shows that administering female sex hormones to men reduces blood cholesterol. These hormones also prevent the development of arteriosclerosis in cholesterol fed chickens This type of research helps explain why heart attacks are less prevalent in middle-aged women than in men of comparable years.

Hardening of the arteries has become our most important disease, since life expectancy has been pushed into the 70s. It is the underlying cause of a variety of conditions including angina pectoris coronary thrombosis, stroke, certain kidney disorders, and poor circulation. Prevent it and we have eliminated our number one disabler and killer.

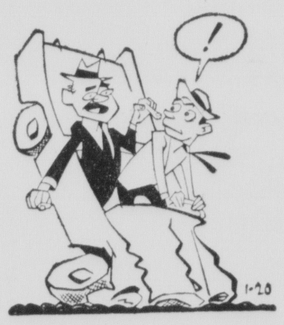
Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Of Palm Springs, the California desert resort, Cleveland Amory reports, "Not everybody you see at the lavish hotels is a millionaire," but adds, "Of course, they were when they arrived there." He implies that to exist in this wonderful California desert country you must be as rich as the 77-year-old member of the Rockefeller clan, who married a lady many years his junior. "What did he give his 'child' bride as a wedding gift?" asked somebody. "Blocks," was the answer. "Yes, blocks. Forty-ninth and Fiftieth—on Fifth."



A strict professor of English and his favorite pupil were motoring along a highway when a truck careened into their car, demolishing it, and pitching the occupants to the ground. The pupil, convinced that his injuries were fatal, gasped, "Farewell, professor! I fear that I am done for." The professor, horrified, implored, "Don't say that, my boy! How can you, after all my teachings, end your last sentence with a preposition?"

Young Henry Ford Will Offer Labor Plan For Guaranteed Annual Wage

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It's been a long time since Henry Ford I amazed the world with a revolutionary wage scale—a guaranteed wage of $5 a day to auto workers. But today his grandson, Henry Ford II, is about to hatch something just as revolutionary.

Young Ford is about to come forward with a guaranteed annual wage to labor.

Furthermore, he is going to beat General Motors to the punch. This probaby means a complete new chapter in the history of American industry. It means that other auto companies will follow suit and that big steel, which long has faced demands from the United Steel Workers will also have to follow. It means that the piecework and the day-to-day hiring system may soon be out the industrial window.

Behind the Ford decision are some extremely interesting facts. In the first place, Ford, General Motors and Chrysler all face a showdown with the United Auto Workers in the spring, when Walter Reuther has already announced he would plump for a guaranteed annual wage.

Ford and GM approach this showdown after a tough ten-year battle in which both have been trying to gain leadership in the sale of low-priced cars. Ford knows that once you attain the No. 1 place, your costs drop, also your price. You don't have to put out so many inducements in advertising to salesmen and to dealers.

This race between the big two of the auto industry gives the United Auto Workers an especially strong position. For one week's strike against either Ford or GM would cost 40,000 units, while a two-week strike would cut off 100,000 units.

Knowing this, young Henry Ford has decided to gamble on his own ability and on the future prosperity of the United States to attain the No. 1 place in sale of low-price cars. Actually it's a much greater gamble than realized. For if he guesses wrong about American prosperity, if his plants are shut down for a long period, it will cost Ford millions. For during the shutdown—under the guaranteed annual wage—he must keep on paying wages.

A lot of details are still undecided regarding the Ford plan for an annual wage—such as how many workers and what type of workers will be covered; also how big the wage will be. A guaranteed wage for the year will probably be fixed at a lower level than the day-to-day wage with no certainty of employment.

However, Henry Ford the First thrived on controversy and young Henry is following in his grandfather's footsteps. He plans to move out into front place as a leader of American industry.

Jimmy Roosevelt In Congress

When Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt, newly elected from California, attended the White House reception for members of Congress, it was like old home week.

Almost every servant remembered him from his father's days, when he was a frequent visitor at the White House. So when he walked in, it looked for a time almost more like a servants' reception for Jimmy than an Eisenhower reception for Congressmen.

Unlike his brother, Franklin, who commuted back and forth to New York, Jimmy has rented a small house on the edge of Maryland and the District of Columbia and is really working at the job of being a congressman. He's being appointed to Congressman Wright Patman's very important Small-Business Committee, is also on the Labor and Education Committee, where he will push hard for a school construction bill.

He has also introduced a vitally important amendment to Section 14 B of the National Labor Relations Act, a section which permits states to pass laws banning the closed shop. The Roosevelt amendment will set aside Section 14 B and forbid the individual states from banning the closed shop.

This is sure to become one of the most hotly debated measures in Congress.

One minor thing the elder Roosevelt son did upon arriving in Washington was to call on secretary of the navy, Charles Thomas, to offer the Navy a gift of a small sloop sailed by FDR when he was assistant secretary of the navy.

The sloop was kept at the Roosevelt summer place at Campobello, Nova Scotia, and FDR used it in happier days before he was stricken with polio. Later, Victor Hammer, the New York art collector, acquired the estate and along with it FDR's old sloop. So Jimmy has made a deal with Hammer to turn it over to the Navy—if the Navy wants it.

"If you want a small boat for the midshipmen to cruise around in off Annapolis, it's yours," he told Thomas. "The only thing I would like to request is that you put a brass nameplate in the stern stating that it was once used by a former assistant secretary of the navy."

Secretary Thomas seemed interested but did not commit himself."

Airline Gravy

A glaring contradiction in President Eisenhower's annual budget message passed unnoticed. In one breath, he declared that "substantial progress has been made in decreasing the level of subsidies," then in the next, he asked Congress to boost the subsidies for the big airlines from $40 million to $63 million.

Even this doesn't tell the full story, since the President also asked for an extra $9 million in airmail payments — an increase over last year. These payments are not officially considered "subsidies" but legitimate pay for flying the mail.

Wave Of The Future

By Joseph Alsop

JAKARTA, Indonesia

Here in Indonesia, just as much ar in Thailand, the political tidal wave started by the Communist victory in Indochina is the great future danger.

It is striking that this should be so. Thailand is both a small country and uncomfortably close to the source of trouble. Indonesia, in contrast, is one of the world's great rations, with a devoutly Muslem population of 80 million. And the tepid seas that lap these rich green islands protect Indonesia from the direct military menace to which Thailand may soon be exposed.

All the same, it is almost certain that this superb Indonesia archipelago will be added to the expanding Communist empire in Asia, if Thailand is allowed to fall. In the absence of anything like a serious Western or Indian policy for Asia, the Communists can afford to take their time in Indonesia. But soon or late, the Communist wave of the future will reach these shores unless it is quickly halted on the Asia mainland.

This is true, moreover, although Indonesian communism is inherently weak. Back in 1948, on the Day of Madiun, the famous Musso and other seasoned Indonesian Communists tried to sieze the leadership of Free Indonesia from President Sukarno and his collaborators of that period. As a result, the whole Indonesian Communist high command was briskly executed.

Party Recovery Slow

Under its new and untried chief Aidit, who has not even had hard Moscow training, the party has been slow to recover from the Madiun setback. It has made some headway in the labor unions in Jakarta and other big towns. But as yet it has no support among the great mass of peasants who are Indonesia's backbone. And the armed services and police are still sternly anti-Communist.

In these circumstances, it would be suicidal for the party to try to take power now or in the near future, before there has been a great change of political climate. So the present Communist line in Indonesia is not to take power. It is to isolate internationally and to soften up Indonesia internally.

The attacks on President Sukarno and the present government of Prime Minister Ali Sastroamidjojo, as being "Pro-Communist," have been exagerated and unfair. But it must be said in honesty that a difficult internal political situation has caused Sukarno and the Ali government to fall in, perhaps unconsciously, with the Communist line.

The tragedy of free Indonesia is that the great quintet who led this country to freedom — Sukarno, Hatta, Sutan Sjahrir, Hajji Salem, and the Sultan of Jogja — did not remain united after freedom was attained. If they had stuck together, Indonesia today would already be fulfilling Indonesia's enormous promise.

Wide Breach Opened

Instead, unfortunately, a wide breach opened between the preeminent figure of the quintet, President Sukarno, and the Masjumi and Socialist parties to which all the others belonged.

The Masjumi is the Muslem party, with the largest popular support. To balance the Masjumi and the Socialists, therefor the Nationalist party which predominates in the Ali government needed the help of the Indonesian Communists. And this was the political arrangement to which President Sukarno gave his blessing when the Ali cabinet was formed.

The motive was local politics. There is no doubt that President Sukarno and Prime Minister Ali believed they can control the Communists, just as did Benes and Masaryk in Czechoslovakia. Moreover they have not yielded to the Communists any of the vital levers of power that Benes blindly gave to them in Prague.

Yet the Communists are pursuing their line, none the less, with obvious success. On the one hand, the international isolation of Indonesia is proceeding apace. If things go on as they are going, Indonesia will hardly be on speaking terms with any but Communist and neutralist powers when and if the moment of Indonesia's danger comes.

Asset To Communists

On the other hand, President Sukarno's amiable dealings with the Communists have given them a kind of temporary respectability, just as President Eisenhower's toleration of Sen. McCarthy gave McCarthy a kind of temporary respectability. And this respectability is proving an invaluable asset to the Communists in their attempts to soften and infiltrate.

Maybe the oncoming national election will change the whole picture. The odds seem to be about even that it will. But if this isolating and softening up process continues in Indonesia, and all Asia meanwhile trembles from a succession of new Communist triumphs, the wave of the future will be quite strong enough to cross the seas to this country. Indonesia's resistance will be weakened. A sense of the inevitability of Communist victory will be instilled. And so the victory will finally take place. Halt the wave now, and the Communist task here is all but hopeless. Let the wave roll, and Indonesia will eventually be engulfed.

More Government Waste Disclosed

If any citizen is still wondering whether government expenditures can be reduced, he will find an answer in the series of reports soon to be issued by the bipartisan Hoover Commission on Governmental Reorganization. Some of the findings of this commission's task forces are so fantastic as to be unbelievable.

It is revealed, for example, that the government bought 800,000 pounds of tomato products on the West Coast and shipped them to the Atlantic Coast. It also bought 700,000 pounds of tomato products on the East Coast and shipped them to the Pacific Coast.

Other discoveries which will be the basis of the commission's recommendations are to the effect that the government engages in more than 1,500 activities which "can be regarded as competitive with those undertaken by private industry," and that American business is required by the government to spend a billion dollars a year filling out questionnaires of which "a large proportion are filed and forgotten."

These samples of waste constitute only a part of the picture. Regardless of the nature of the rest of them, they offer convincing evidence that the Hoover Commission's work should be continued and that Congress should give serious consideration to its proposals for reform in governmental procedures.

As long as there is widespread waste in government, few taxpayers will be impressed by contentions that taxes cannot be reduced because the government needs the money.

These Days

Character Assassination

When Herbert Hoover was President, the Democratic National Committee hired Charles Michelson to assassinate Mr. Hoover's reputation. Michelson devoted himself to the job affectionately. Hoover's career was investigated from the day of his birth and when nothing could be found to hurt his good name, it was manufactured with cynical skill.

This is the classical example of organized, subsidized character assassination. Herbert Hoover survived but many of those who sought to sully his good name have since died, including Charley Michelson who wrote a book on his infamies. Hoover, being a Quaker, has long forgiven the assassins; what is more, he has come to be on friendly terms with some of them, not taking their conduct too seriously. However, some of Michelson's falsehoods persist to this day to Mr. Hoover's amusement at the folly of men.

Nowadays, it has become improper to tell not only stories but the truth about political opponents, lest it involve "character assassination" which is a meaningless term politically because all politicians practise self-praise and point to the foibles of their adversaries. If the foibles are sufficient to bring about a man's defeat, it is generally regarded as the thing to do. But one must always expect the boar that has been stuck to shout, "Character assassin!"

When Woodrow Wilson was President, a smearing campaign was stimulated by his enemies dealing with his private life. This effort to destroy his character culminated in the hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee concerning the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis to the Supreme Court. Brandeis was innocent of any relationship to President Wilson's private life and if ever there was an attempt at character assassination, it was bringing him into the matter at all. But nobody called it such a fancy name then; they called it politics played to embarrass a president. That office was at that time not regarded as sacrosanct and no president dared to take himself too seriously.

Those who make such a big noise about character assassination engage in that art themselves when it is to their advantage. For instance, Senator Neuberger, the fledgling from Oregon, accused Vice President Nixon of character assassination, whereupon he proceeded to assassinate Nixon's character. Everybody's doing it, more or less. The constancy of a habit does not make it right, but when the pot calls the kettle black, the kettle might, with justice, do some hissing, which apparently Mrs. George Malone did.

Actually the looseness of our conversation concerning public men has this virtue, that it may occasionally remind the great men who govern us that they were not to the manner born, as indeed, no one is in our land where the sons of farmers and workers and miners emerge to the top. It is lese majeste to run down a king or a queen because they have purer blood than we have, not biologically but genealogically, if that matters. Here there are no genealogies that matter. The only recent president that owned one was Franklin D. Roosevelt whose ancestors were something or other before they migrated from Holland and France to live among the Indians.

The only way to keep great men from believing in their own publicity is to remind them of what they were before they began to wonder themselves on what meat they thrived so mightily. Also it is good to remind them that not every word they say is sacred; that not every trick they pull is divine revelation. If maturity means obeisance to the great, then we were a better country before we became mature. Maturity may be synonymous with senility.

Personally, I do not go in for character assassination because too few persons are worthy of the effort. Do I care whether a politician is an alcoholic; if his wife took in washing before he suddenly bought her a mink coat; or if a supposedly learned man never read anything more serious than a "whodunit"? It might be interesting but is it important, particularly if the official somehow manages to do his job and is not soft on Communists and does not lie more than is necessary to get elected and to stay in office?

This is a democracy which means that what the people do is ipso facto right even if it turns out to be stupid which it does sometimes happen.

Enigma

Young Henry Ford Will Offer Labor Plan For Guaranteed Annual Wage

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It's been a long time since Henry Ford I amazed the world with a revolutionary wage scale—a guaranteed wage of $5 a day to auto workers. But today his grandson, Henry Ford II, is about to hatch something just as revolutionary.

Young Ford is about to come forward with a guaranteed annual wage to labor.

Furthermore, he is going to beat General Motors to the punch. This probaby means a complete new chapter in the history of American industry. It means that other auto companies will follow suit and that big steel, which long has faced demands from the United Steel Workers will also have to follow. It means that the piecework and the day-to-day hiring system may soon be out the industrial window.

Behind the Ford decision are some extremely interesting facts. In the first place, Ford, General Motors and Chrysler all face a showdown with the United Auto Workers in the spring, when Walter Reuther has already announced he would plump for a guaranteed annual wage.

Ford and GM approach this showdown after a tough ten-year battle in which both have been trying to gain leadership in the sale of low-priced cars. Ford knows that once you attain the No. 1 place, your costs drop, also your price. You don't have to put out so many inducements in advertising to salesmen and to dealers.

This race between the big two of the auto industry gives the United Auto Workers an especially strong position. For one week's strike against either Ford or GM would cost 40,000 units, while a two-week strike would cut off 100,000 units.

Knowing this, young Henry Ford has decided to gamble on his own ability and on the future prosperity of the United States to attain the No. 1 place in sale of low-price cars. Actually it's a much greater gamble than realized. For if he guesses wrong about American prosperity, if his plants are shut down for a long period, it will cost Ford millions. For during the shutdown—under the guaranteed annual wage—he must keep on paying wages.

A lot of details are still undecided regarding the Ford plan for an annual wage—such as how many workers and what type of workers will be covered; also how big the wage will be. A guaranteed wage for the year will probably be fixed at a lower level than the day-to-day wage with no certainty of employment.

However, Henry Ford the First thrived on controversy and young Henry is following in his grandfather's footsteps. He plans to move out into front place as a leader of American industry.

Jimmy Roosevelt In Congress

When Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt, newly elected from California, attended the White House reception for members of Congress, it was like old home week.

Almost every servant remembered him from his father's days, when he was a frequent visitor at the White House. So when he walked in, it looked for a time almost more like a servants' reception for Jimmy than an Eisenhower reception for Congressmen.

Unlike his brother, Franklin, who commuted back and forth to New York, Jimmy has rented a small house on the edge of Maryland and the District of Columbia and is really working at the job of being a congressman. He's being appointed to Congressman Wright Patman's very important Small-Business Committee, is also on the Labor and Education Committee, where he will push hard for a school construction bill.

He has also introduced a vitally important amendment to Section 14 B of the National Labor Relations Act, a section which permits states to pass laws banning the closed shop. The Roosevelt amendment will set aside Section 14 B and forbid the individual states from banning the closed shop.

This is sure to become one of the most hotly debated measures in Congress.

One minor thing the elder Roosevelt son did upon arriving in Washington was to call on secretary of the navy, Charles Thomas, to offer the Navy a gift of a small sloop sailed by FDR when he was assistant secretary of the navy.

The sloop was kept at the Roosevelt summer place at Campobello, Nova Scotia, and FDR used it in happier days before he was stricken with polio. Later, Victor Hammer, the New York art collector, acquired the estate and along with it FDR's old sloop. So Jimmy has made a deal with Hammer to turn it over to the Navy—if the Navy wants it.

"If you want a small boat for the midshipmen to cruise around in off Annapolis, it's yours," he told Thomas. "The only thing I would like to request is that you put a brass nameplate in the stern stating that it was once used by a former assistant secretary of the navy."

Secretary Thomas seemed interested but did not commit himself."

Airline Gravy

A glaring contradiction in President Eisenhower's annual budget message passed unnoticed. In one breath, he declared that "substantial progress has been made in decreasing the level of subsidies," then in the next, he asked Congress to boost the subsidies for the big airlines from $40 million to $63 million.

Even this doesn't tell the full story, since the President also asked for an extra $9 million in airmail payments — an increase over last year. These payments are not officially considered "subsidies" but legitimate pay for flying the mail.

Boldness That Made America Great Reflected By GM

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The cynical in our midst who speak of American business men as standpatters or ultra-conservatives, timid about change and hesitant to move forward, would have been disillusioned if they could have attended the luncheon given by General Motors to several hundred of the top industrial and financial executives of the country.

Something of the imagination and boldness in planning which has made America the most powerful nation industrially in the world was reflected in the speeches made by Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board of the General Motors Corporation.

Sitting in the audience was Charles E. Wilson, former president of the corporation and now the secretary of defense and, if anybody had any doubt about that famous misquotation which was so widely circulated, he must have had such doubt removed. For it was plain from the speeches that what is good for America is what General Motors considers paramount for itself.

Confident About Future

Thus, just a year ago when the prophets of gloom were shaking their heads and predicting a depression, Mr. Curtice stood before the same group of business men and predicted that there would be a continuing high level of employment and consumer expenditures, with unprecedented housing starts and a gross national product not far from the 1953 level. But he startled his audience then by announcing that General Motors was planning an expansion program of a billion dollars, which has since grown by a half billion. Such was his confidence in the future.

This time Mr. Curtice was able to say "I told you so." For his 1954 prediction as to car sales and volume of business were right on the button. General Motors crossed the ten billion mark in sales, and the whole industry produced close to 7,000,000 auto units.

Mr. Curtice is optimistic about 1955, which he thinks will be a great year in business. He foresees a gross national product for 1955 of $370 billions, which is a three per cent increase over last year. He added:

"A worldwide strengthening of national economics is clearly evident. I was greatly impressed with the economic recovery in England and six European countries which I visited last fall . . . The increasing productivity and prosperity of the free world contributed added strength to our own economy."

Mr. Sloan was stimulating, too, as he presented, in extemporaneous remarks, his appraisal of the future. He said:

"The interesting thing is it took us 32 years to make the first 25 million automobiles and 14 years to make the second 25 million. Now how long it is going to take us in America to make the third 25 million? I won't make a prophecy. That belongs to Mr. Curtice but I venture to say it will be less than eight years."

Mr. Sloan pointed out that there has been an enormous expansion of auto plants abroad and that less and less export from America might be in prospect. He said that this was one reason why General Motors had just invested 200 million dollars in production facilities in England, on the continent of Europe, and in Australia.

Calling on business men to do more basic research, Mr. Sloan stressed the importance of scientific discovery and technological improvement. But his most significant statement was in relation to "the economic climate in which business is operating today." He declared:

"For over 20 years, we had all kinds of discouragement from the standpoint of national economic policies — repression of industry, lack of appreciation of the great force and power of expanding the economy. This is now finished and, as I forecast last year in supporting Mr. Curtice's program of a billion-dollar expansion, I make the point that we are entering an era wherein business will be encouraged by more incentive, eliminating many things that have held us back for so many years.

Suggests Bold Planning

"My plea to you gentlemen is this: Let us plan boldly in expansion and development. Don't let's wait until the thing is before us. Let's forecast that it is going to happen and let's go ahead and do the job before it happens. In that way, the job will be done in a bigger and better way than otherwise will occur."

This was a fitting supplement to the predictions of business growth made by Mr. Curtice as he declared that population by 1962 may total 184 million and that the number of households should increase from 48 to 54 million, "creating a tremendous demand for homes, motor vehicles and other goods and services."

Nowhere in the world, as the speakers indicated, has any industrial group demonstrated "such faith in the economy of its nation or such confidence in its own future as has the automobile industry."

It was an inspiring sermon of true progressivism for all business and industry.

Baering Down On The News

Been some letters about diplomacy at the top-sergeant level. It got more results than a short circuit in an electric blanket.

Back in 1945 we were playing ball with both sides and trying to umpire too. An old China hand told me, "Don't waste pearls whether they're gems or onions."

We spilled plenty of brass-bound protocal in the Orient. Even if we had pushed the camel through the eye of the needle we couldn't have tied a knot in the thread.

While we were getting up pressure in the boiler room of the paper dragon our man lit out for Formosa. If there was anything we didn't need in 1945 it was another island.

Story of Guam, Philippines, Wake and the et cetera archipalago proves there are two things you cannot hold. One is an eel in the rain. The other is an island.

In these days of atomic worship an island is as vulnerable as a cardboard shirtfront in a laundry.

The Japs took 'em away from us and we took 'em back like the shuffle in two-handed canasta.

Chiang Kai-shek is firmly stagnated on Formosa with what the experts call an army-in-being. Translating that at the present rate of interest means it's being armed by us, it's being clothed by us and it's being fed by us.

We agreed with Washington recently that there is no active war. But there are many places you shouldn't look around a corner unless you have an extra head under your arm.

We mean there are still plenty of spots where a tourist should stay one jump ahead of his souvenir postcards.

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The relationship between diet and hardening of the arteries continues to be one of our leading research problems. There is enough proof to implicate certain fatty foods but many authorities are not convinced and have good reason for saying so.

Chemicals, such as cholesterol, are found normally in the blood and in the walls of the arteries. The amount is increased with advancing age, particularly when arteriosclerosis exists. It is only natural for diet to enter the picture because these fatty materials come originally from food.

Cholesterol made the headlines several years ago with the discovery that hardening of the arteries could be produced in chickens by adding the substance to their feed. Experiments on other laboratory animals have led to similar results but whether these findings are applicable to man remains questionable.

Diets low in fats and cholesterol do not always influence the cholesterol levels in the blood. Bile manufactured in the liver is rich in cholesterol and is not affected by what is eaten. Studies have shown that 10 to 20 times as much of this material reaches the intestine in bile as comes in through the food consumed.

If the body continues to manufacture its own cholesterol in this way, how can we expect to get anywhere through diet? It must not be disregarded entirely, however, because ample evidence can be demonstrated in favor of cholesterol and lipoproteins as a cause of arteriosclerosis.

As previously stated, the concentration of these chemicals in the blood mounts with the years. We have always thought that age has something to do with these higher blood levels but recent studies tend to inplicate the dietary habits.

Americans, Englishmen, and wealthy Spaniards eat more fat than do Italians and poor Spaniards. This is reflected in their blood cholesterol levels because elderly persons among the latter group show a low or normal percentage. This would not happen if age alone played a role.

Another recent study shows that administering female sex hormones to men reduces blood cholesterol. These hormones also prevent the development of arteriosclerosis in cholesterol fed chickens This type of research helps explain why heart attacks are less prevalent in middle-aged women than in men of comparable years.

Hardening of the arteries has become our most important disease, since life expectancy has been pushed into the 70s. It is the underlying cause of a variety of conditions including angina pectoris coronary thrombosis, stroke, certain kidney disorders, and poor circulation. Prevent it and we have eliminated our number one disabler and killer.

Try And Stop Me!

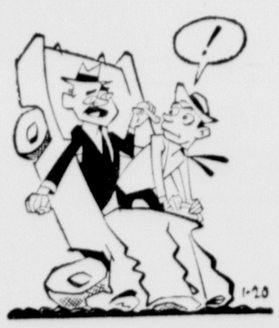
Of Palm Springs, the California desert resort, Cleveland Amory reports, "Not everybody you see at the lavish hotels is a millionaire," but adds, "Of course, they were when they arrived there." He implies that to exist in this wonderful California desert country you must be as rich as the 77-year-old member of the Rockefeller clan, who married a lady many years his junior. "What did he give his 'child' bride as a wedding gift?" asked somebody. "Blocks," was the answer. "Yes, blocks. Forty-ninth and Fiftieth—on Fifth."



A strict professor of English and his favorite pupil were motoring along a highway when a truck careened into their car, demolishing it, and pitching the occupants to the ground. The pupil, convinced that his injuries were fatal, gasped, "Farewell, professor! I fear that I am done for." The professor, horrified, implored, "Don't say that, my boy! How can you, after all my teachings, end your last sentence with a preposition?"

U. S. Golf Pros Defeat Canada For Hopkins Cup

Middlecoff, Mangrum Beaten In 17-10 Win

LA JOLLA, Calif., Jan. 19 (AP)—A United States team of professional golfers turned back the challenge of Canada in the Hopkins International Trophy series today, winning by a score of 17 points to 10 for the fourth straight year.

The Americans built up a lead of 11-7 in winning three singles matches this morning, losing two and splitting even on one.

This afternoon they added to their points in winning a pair of doubles matches while losing a third.

The biggest upset came when the crack Canadian team of Al Balding and Gordon Brydson, both of Toronto, defeated two former United States open champions, Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum.

The Canadian pair scored 2½ points to ½ point in handing their rivals a 3-up beating.

Jack Burke and the current U. S. Open champion Ed Furgol, won 2½-½ in a 2-up decision over Par Fletcher of Saskatchewan and Stan Leonard, Vancouver star and captain of the team.

Jerry Barber and Marty Furgol blanked their Canadian opponent Henry Martell, Edmonton, Alberta, and Bill Kerr of Montreal 3-0, by a 3-up decision.

The singles matches, interrupted by heavy rain yesterday after nine holes, were resumed this morning and the American PGA champion, Chick Harbert, led off with a 4-up triumph over Fletcher that was worth all three points of the match.

Middlecoff matched the point scoring of Harbert with a 5-up victory over Kerr, and Ed Furgol defeated Balding 2½ to ½ by a 1-up margin.

Martell put the Canadians in the running, scoring 2½ points to ½ over Marty Furgol, with a 3-up decision; Jules Huot of Montreal added 2½ more in defeating Barber, 1-up, while Burke and Leonard battled to a draw. Each scored 1½ points. Each won a nine-hole verdict and the 18-hole match itself ended all square. There is no playoff in this type of competition.

Hi Dee Wins Two

The Hi Dee Club defeated Stadium Inn of Frostburg, 2-1, last night in an Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League match. High scorer for Hi Dee was Perry with 23 points and Duckworth for Stadium Inn with 19.

Jones Bests Ray Robinson

CHICAGO, Jan. 19 (AP) — Ralph (Tiger) Jones, unranked battler from Yonkers, N. Y., banged a unanimous 10-round decision over former middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Robinson was a ringside 8 to 1 favorite to achieve the second straight victory of his comeback campaign, but he was an empty shell against the constantly-pressing Jones.

Sugar Ray, bleeding from his nose and a cut over his right eye, was a futile dancing doll against the hard-punching Jones, who at 26 was eight years younger than the chagrined former middleweight and welterweight champion.

Referee Frank Sikora voted for Jones 99-94, while Judge Ed Hintz called it for Jones 100-88 and Judge Ed Walsh, 98-89.

The Associated Press score card had Jones winning by 100 to 95, with Robinson taking only one round, the 10th.

Marguerite Lashley Scores 36 Points As Nuggets Win 2-1

Clingerman's first place team stretched its lead with a 3-0 win over Purple Heart which dropped to sixth place in the 10-team circuit. The WOW knotted Frostburg Legion, which won 2-1 over Cas Taylor's, for second place five games behind Clingerman's.

Wise Signed By Clemson

Succeeds Cohen As Backfield Mentor

CLEMSON, S. C., Jan. 19 (AP) — Clemson College announced today that Carl Wise, former head football coach at Washington and Lee University, had been signed as backfield coach. Wise resigned at W&L last week because the school decided to eliminate athletic scholarships.

Wise will report here Feb. 1.

He will succeed Russ Cohen, who since 1947 has coached Clemson's backs in fall and spring, but had not been a year-round coach. Cohen indicated at the end of the 1954 season that he did not intend to return.

The 37-year-old Wise, a native of Bristol, Tenn.-Va., after being graduated from King College, coached at Covington, Va., High School, and next moved on as backfield coach at the Naval Training Station team at Bainbridge, Md., in World War II.

He was backfield coach at W&L under Coach Art Lewis 1946-48 and under George Barclay 1949-51. When Barclay transferred to the University of North Carolina, Wise became head coach.

Aging Beau Jack Begins Comeback

Meets Eddie Green In Bout Tonight

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 19 (AP)—Aging Beau Jack, the game Augusta, Ga., Negro who resigned as world lightweight boxing champion in 1943, starts what he hopes is a comeback here tomorrow night.

Despite the protests of his former manager, the several pounds heavier Jack will take on 27-year-old Eddie Green of Kannapolis, N.C. in a 10-round middleweight bout. It will be his first fight since being stopped by Gil Turner May 21, 1951.

New York boxing manager Chick Wergeles predicts Jack "will get hurt" because of a bad knee.

Columbia promoter Dick Wilson insists, however, that Jack is in "tip-top shape" and the chunky boxer himself says he's "ready."

The motive behind Jack's return apparently isn't money. Wilson said the fighter owns property near Augusta and has a "going drive-in restaurant." Jack says "I just like to fight."

Jack, who admits to being 33, began his boxing career in 1940. He's won 80, lost 24, and had four draws. Half of his victories came by knockouts.

State's Racing Commission Cool To Law Changes

BALTIMORE, Jan. 19 (AP) — The Maryland Agricultural Fair Assn., made up of the State's five half-mile race tracks, laid before the State Racing Commission today its proposals for changing Maryland racing laws.

The commission was not overly impressed.

Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart said: "Three years ago we changed the half-mile tax setup to what we were told would settle all the woes and worries of the track owners. Now they are back again with new ideas."

The association proposed these changes:

1. That race meetings at each of the five half-mile ovals—Bel Air, Timonium, Cumberland, Hagerstown and Marlboro—be increased from 10 to 12 days.

2. And that the half-mile tracks be allowed a larger part of the 12 per cent take from the wagering pools.

Rinehart said the board has no objection to increasing the racing dates. But he withheld official approval until the commission can hold additional hearings.

He indicated the commission does not favor a change in the way the wagers are shared. Rinehart said that if the tracks are given a bigger share, the State's revenue would suffer at a time when it is looking for increased revenue.

"We find," said Rinehart, "that it would mean about $230,000 to $245,000 increase in revenues to the five tracks concerned, based on last year's business."

Another meeting of the commission with association officials was scheduled for next Wednesday. The association is seeking commission approval of its proposals before taking them to the General Assembly.

Wise Signed By Clemson

Succeeds Cohen As Backfield Mentor

CLEMSON, S. C., Jan. 19 (AP) — Clemson College announced today that Carl Wise, former head football coach at Washington and Lee University, had been signed as backfield coach. Wise resigned at W&L last week because the school decided to eliminate athletic scholarships.

Wise will report here Feb. 1.

He will succeed Russ Cohen, who since 1947 has coached Clemson's backs in fall and spring, but had not been a year-round coach. Cohen indicated at the end of the 1954 season that he did not intend to return.

The 37-year-old Wise, a native of Bristol, Tenn.-Va., after being graduated from King College, coached at Covington, Va., High School, and next moved on as backfield coach at the Naval Training Station team at Bainbridge, Md., in World War II.

He was backfield coach at W&L under Coach Art Lewis 1946-48 and under George Barclay 1949-51. When Barclay transferred to the University of North Carolina, Wise became head coach.

Aging Beau Jack Begins Comeback

Meets Eddie Green In Bout Tonight

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 19 (AP)—Aging Beau Jack, the game Augusta, Ga., Negro who resigned as world lightweight boxing champion in 1943, starts what he hopes is a comeback here tomorrow night.

Despite the protests of his former manager, the several pounds heavier Jack will take on 27-year-old Eddie Green of Kannapolis, N.C. in a 10-round middleweight bout. It will be his first fight since being stopped by Gil Turner May 21, 1951.

New York boxing manager Chick Wergeles predicts Jack "will get hurt" because of a bad knee.

Columbia promoter Dick Wilson insists, however, that Jack is in "tip-top shape" and the chunky boxer himself says he's "ready."

The motive behind Jack's return apparently isn't money, Wilson said the fighter owns property near Augusta and has a "going drive-in restaurant." Jack says "I just like to fight."

Jack, who admits to being 33, began his boxing career in 1940. He's won 80, lost 24, and had four draws. Half of his victories came by knockouts.

State's Racing Commission Cool To Law Changes

BALTIMORE, Jan. 19 (AP) — The Maryland Agricultural Fair Assn., made up of the State's five half-mile race tracks, laid before the State Racing Commission today its proposals for changing Maryland racing laws.

The commission was not overly impressed.

Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart said: "Three years ago we changed the half-mile tax setup to what we were told would settle all the woes and worries of the track owners. Now they are back again with new ideas."

The association proposed these changes:

1. That race meetings at each of the five half-mile ovals—Bel Air, Timonium, Cumberland, Hagerstown and Marlboro—be increased from 10 to 12 days.

2. And that the half-mile tracks be allowed a larger part of the 12 per cent take from the wagering pools.

Rinehart said the board has no objection to increasing the racing dates. But he withheld official approval until the commission can hold additional hearings.

He indicated the commission does not favor a change in the way the wagers are shared. Rinehart said that if the tracks are given a bigger share, the State's revenue would suffer at a time when it is looking for increased revenue.

"We find," said Rinehart, "that it would mean about $230,000 to $245,000 increase in revenues to the five tracks concerned, based on last year's business."

Another meeting of the commission with association officials was scheduled for next Wednesday. The association is seeking commission approval of its proposals before taking them to the General Assembly.

Ft. Hill Boosters To Honor City Football Champs Tonight

VPI Mentor Frank Moseley To Be Speaker

Annual Affair Set For Ali Ghan Club Beginning At 6:30

Coach Frank O. Moseley of Virginia Tech and Dickie Beard, former Fort Hill High School star, will be the principal speakers tonight at the annual Fort Hill Boosters Club's football dinner at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. The affair will get underway at 6:30 p.m.

Luman "Chad" Riley, local radio sportscaster will be toastmaster for the occasion which will honor the Fort Hill grid squad as city champions for 1954.

The sixth annual James H. Hipsley Memorial Award will be made to the outstanding senior member of the football team with the presentation of the trophy by Victor D. Heisey, principal of the school.

Past Winners Named

Past winners of the award were Neil Bechtol, 1953; Ronald Athey, 1952; Dave Ritter, 1951; Eddie Landis, 1950; and Donald Decker, 1949.

Moseley, who guided the Virginia Tech Gobblers to one of their most successful grid seasons last year, has indicated he will bring several films of VPI games with him to feature the dinner affair.

Beard, who was the leading ground gainer in the Southern Conference and named to the All-Virginia team by the Associated Press, was an outstanding figure on the Tech eleven. He led city scorers two years in a row in 1950 and 1951 while at Fort Hill.

The former local grid flash was named to the All-City eleven in 1951, and this past season was honored with the captaincy of the Virginia All-Big Six college football team and was selected to the Southern Conference all-star team.

Moseley, who took over the reins as head grid mentor of the Gobblers in 1951, is a graduate of Alabama University where he played football and baseball. He coached at University of Maryland and Kentucky under Paul "Bear" Bryant.

Tech Team Undefeated

Moseley is 41 years old and served in the Navy during World War II. He is a native of Montgomery, Ala. His Tech eleven last year won eight games and tied one.

In addition to the Hipsley award the Times and Alleganian Company will present the Times-News trophy to the city champions while the Booster Club will give each individual member of the grid squad a small Oscar. Tommy Mont, assistant football coach at the University of Maryland, will be a speaker at the dinner.

Also to be honored tonight are the Fort Hill cheerleaders, Joan Garlitz, Darla Griffith, Shirley Hixenbaugh, Audrey Lepley, Sally Morris and Mary Katherine Newnam along with their advisor Miss Dolores Chase.

Queen Among Guests

The 1954 Fort Hill Football Queen, Miss Suzanne Kaiser; George Eskin, winner of the state and county I Speak For Democracy contests and editor of the Sentinel, school paper; and Lewis Parsenois, student council president, also will be guests tonight.

Rev. Adam E. Grim, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

Plan Mays Honors

BOSTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Outfielder Willie Mays of the world champion New York Giants, voted the National League's most valuable player in 1954, will be honored at the Boston baseball writers dinner Jan. 26.

Mays, who also won the league batting title, will receive a plaque from the local writers on his MVP selection.

Bill Meek Signs To Coach Grid Team At Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — Bill Meek, 33-year-old head football coach at Kansas State, today was named head football coach at the University of Houston.

Corbin J. Robertson, chairman of the University Athletic Council, Board of Regent, said Meek has accepted terms for a 5-year contract.

No salary terms were revealed, but it was speculated the new contract will call from $12,000 to $14,000 per year.

The Houston vacancy was created Dec. 6 with the resignation of Clyde Lee, head man for the past four years. Lee had said that his 1954 season record of 5-5 was "disappointing."

Meek, in four years at Kansas State, completed a successful rebuilding program. During his first two years there, his teams won only one game in each season. In 1953 he had a 6-3-1 record and last season won seven games against three defeats.

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Jan. 19 (AP)—"Scrappy Jack" Hennemier, line coach at the University of Maryland since 1949, announced today he had resigned to become head coach of the Calgary Stampeders in the Canadian pro football league.

Joe Page Ordered To Pay Wife $100 Per Month Support

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19 (AP)—Joe Page, former New York Yankee relief pitcher, today was ordered to pay $100 a month support to his estranged wife Catherine.

The order by Judge Francis J. O'Connor of the Allegheny County Court supersedes an order issued in Westmoreland County court for $75 a month.

Mrs. Page had her husband arrested shortly before Christmas for non-compliance with the earlier support order. Page, owner of a tavern near Irwin, made an estimated $230,000 with the Yankees.

Ft. Hill Boosters To Honor City Football Champs Tonight

VPI Mentor Frank Moseley To Be Speaker

Annual Affair Set For Ali Ghan Club Beginning At 6:30

Coach Frank O. Moseley of Virginia Tech and Dickie Beard, former Fort Hill High School star, will be the principal speakers tonight at the annual Fort Hill Boosters Club's football dinner at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. The affair will get underway at 6:30 p.m.

Luman "Chad" Riley, local radio sportscaster will be toastmaster for the occasion which will honor the Fort Hill grid squad as city champions for 1954.

The sixth annual James H. Hipsley Memorial Award will be made to the outstanding senior member of the football team with the presentation of the trophy by Victor D. Heisey, principal of the school.

Past Winners Named

Moseley, who guided the Virginia Tech Gobblers to one of their most successful grid seasons last year, has indicated he will bring several films of VPI games with him to feature the dinner affair.

Beard, who was the leading ground gainer in the Southern Conference and named to the All-Virginia team by the Associated Press, was an outstanding figure on the Tech eleven. He led city scorers two years in a row in 1950 and 1951 while at Fort Hill.

The former local grid flash was named to the All-City eleven in 1951, and this past season was honored with the captaincy of the Virginia All-Big Six college football team and was selected to the Southern Conference all-star team.

Moseley, who took over the reins as head grid mentor of the Gobblers in 1951, is a graduate of Alabama University where he played football and baseball. He coached at University of Maryland and Kentucky under Paul "Bear" Bryant.

Tech Team Undefeated

Moseley is 41 years old and served in the Navy during World War II. He is a native of Montgomery, Ala. His Tech eleven last year won eight games and tied one.

In addition to the Hipsley award the Times and Alleganian Company will present the Times-News trophy to the city champions while the Booster Club will give each individual member of the grid squad a small Oscar. Tommy Mont, assistant football coach at the University of Maryland, will be a speaker at the dinner.

Also to be honored tonight are the Fort Hill cheerleaders, Joan Garlitz, Darla Griffith, Shirley Hixenbaugh, Audrey Lepley, Sally Morris and Mary Katherine Newnam along with their advisor Miss Dolores Chase.

Queen Among Guests

The 1954 Fort Hill Football Queen, Miss Suzanne Kaiser; George Eskin, winner of the state and county I Speak For Democracy contests and editor of the Sentinel, school paper; and Lewis Parsenois, student council president, also will be guests tonight.

Rev. Adam E. Grim, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

Bill Meek Signs To Coach Grid Team At Houston

Corbin J. Robertson, chairman of the University Athletic Council, Board of Regent, said Meek has accepted terms for a 5-year contract.

No salary terms were revealed, but it was speculated the new contract will call from $12,000 to $14,000 per year.

The Houston vacancy was created Dec. 6 with the resignation of Clyde Lee, head man for the past four years. Lee had said that his 1954 season record of 5-5 was "disappointing."

Meek, in four years at Kansas State, completed a successful rebuilding program. During his first two years there, his teams won only one game in each season. In 1953 he had a 6-3-1 record and last season won seven games against three defeats.

Maryland Line Coach Resigns To Head Calgary Team

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Jan. 19 (AP)—"Scrappy Jack" Hennemier, line coach at the University of Maryland since 1949, announced today he had resigned to become head coach of the Calgary Stampeders in the Canadian pro football league.

Hennemier was an all-conference center his senior year at Duke in 1935 despite the fact he weighed in at only 150. He went to Washington and Lee as line coach in 1939 and into the Navy after the 1941 season, coaching and playing on the football team at the Pensacola, Fla., Naval Air Station. After his discharge he went to Duke as assistant line coach.

Storage Tank In Westernport Gets Approval

Would Insure Water In Greene's Addition

WESTERNPORT — Construction of a water storage tank to improve the water supply in the Greene's Addition area was approved Tuesday at a special meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michael and City Commissioners Tuesday afternoon and evening.

At the Tuesday meeting I. M. Glace Jr. of the Harrisburg (Pa.) consulting engineers' firm of Glace and Glace recommended that the city construct a conventional type filtration plant. The facility would be capable of treating 700,000 gallons of water daily. There are about 1,400 water consumers in the Westernport system.

The water storage tank will be erected in the Roosevelt Street area. Glace was authorized to make a survey to determine the elevation from the town's reservoir on Chestnut Street to the eastern end of Green's Addition to find the level.

The proposed tank would store between 300,000 and 400,000 gallons of water. There has been a shortage for some time in Greene's Addition. The tank is believed capable of storing sufficient water at night to take care of the residents in that area the following day.

The financing of bonds for the filtration plant and the storage plant was one of the chief items of discussion.

Would Insure Water In Greene's Addition

WESTERNPORT — Construction of a water storage tank to improve the water supply in the Greene's Addition area was approved Tuesday at a special meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michael and City Commissioners Tuesday afternoon and evening.

At the Tuesday meeting I. M. Glace Jr. of the Harrisburg (Pa.) consulting engineers' firm of Glace and Glace recommended that the city construct a conventional type filtration plant. The facility would be capable of treating 700,000 gallons of water daily. There are about 1,400 water consumers in the Westernport system.

The water storage tank will be erected in the Roosevelt Street area. Glace was authorized to make a survey to determine the elevation from the town's reservoir on Chestnut Street to the eastern end of Green's Addition to find the level.

The proposed tank would store between 300,000 and 400,000 gallons of water. There has been a shortage for some time in Greene's Addition. The tank is believed capable of storing sufficient water at night to take care of the residents in that area the following day.

The financing of bonds for the filtration plant and the storage plant was one of the chief items of discussion.

SELECT RIGHT DISCARD

IT MAY appear to make no difference what card you select to throw off on a winner in the opposite hand. But a bit of study can sometimes show you that the entire result depends on it. You may be able to establish the fifth card of a suit that long, and it therefore should be held, whereas the third card of a short holding can well be spared. Mental play of the deal, before committing yourself, can sometimes guide you to the correct course.

	♠ 5 ♥ A 8 7 6 5 4 ♦ K 2 ♣ 10 7 5 3
♠ 10 8 3 2 ♥ Q J 10 9 ♦ J 6 5 4 ♣ 2	N W E S	♠ Q J 6 ♥ K 3 2 ♦ Q 10 9 3 ♣ A J 9
	♠ A K 9 7 4 ♥ None ♦ A 8 7 ♣ K Q 8 6 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

It happened that this tournament contract went down wherever South discarded his spade 4 on the heart Q lead to the A, and was made where the diamond 7 was put on the trick. Let's see how one declarer failed. After the spade discard, he scored the diamond K and A, then ruffed the 7 with the club 3. He led the spade 5 to the A, ruffed the spade 7 with the club 5 and led the club 7, East playing the 9 and the K winning. The spade 9 was ruffed by dummy's last trump, the 10, and the heart 8 ruffed by the club 4 to reach South's hand. Obliged to lead from his own hand, South could not help losing two tricks, to the club A and J, to be down one.

One declarer, who made the contract after discarding the diamond 7 on the heart lead, brought forth the club 3 from dummy and played the K on East's 9. The spade A was scored, the 4 ruffed by the club 5, the diamond A used as an entry, the spade 7 ruffed by the club 7 to assure establishment of the fifth spade, then the club 10 was led through East. He came in with the A, but it made no difference what he did. South's hand was now all established, and he had the club Q to top the J.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ 10 ♥ J 8 5 ♦ J 10 9 5 3 2 ♣ Q 5 3

	♠ 9 8 4 ♥ A Q 9 2 ♦ A K 8 4 ♣ 8 7

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

Can you imagine any bidding and play which could produce twelve tricks at 3-No Trumps for East at one table and ten at 3-No Trumps for North at another on this tournament deal?

THE LITTLE WOMAN — HENRY — By CARL ANDERSON

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Shepard Barclay

SELECT RIGHT DISCARD

IT MAY appear to make no difference what card you select to throw off on a winner in the opposite hand. But a bit of study can sometimes show you that the entire result depends on it. You may be able to establish the fifth card of a suit that long, and it therefore should be held, whereas the third card of a short holding can well be spared. Mental play of the deal, before committing yourself, can sometimes guide you to the correct course.

	♠ 5 ♥ A 8 7 6 5 4 ♦ K 2 ♣ 10 7 5 3
♠ 10 8 3 2 ♥ Q J 10 9 ♦ J 6 5 4 ♣ 2	N W E S	♠ Q J 6 ♥ K 3 2 ♦ Q 10 9 3 ♣ A J 9
	♠ A K 9 7 4 ♥ None ♦ A 8 7 ♣ K Q 8 6 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 NT	Pass

It happened that this tournament contract went down wherever South discarded his spade 4 on the heart Q lead to the A, and was made where the diamond 7 was put on the trick. Let's see how one declarer failed. After the spade discard, he scored the diamond K and A, then ruffed the 7 with the club 3. He led the spade 5 to the A, ruffed the spade 7 with the club 5 and led the club 7, East playing the 9 and the K winning. The spade 9 was ruffed by dummy's last trump, the 10, and the heart 8 ruffed by the club 4 to reach South's hand. Obliged to lead from his own hand, South could not help losing two tricks, to the club A and J, to be down one.

One declarer, who made the contract after discarding the diamond 7 on the heart lead, brought forth the club 3 from dummy and played the K on East's 9. The spade A was scored, the 4 ruffed by the club 5, the diamond A used as an entry, the spade 7 ruffed by the club 7 to assure establishment of the fifth spade, then the club 10 was led through East. He came in with the A, but it made no difference what he did. South's hand was now all established, and he had the club Q to top the J.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ 10 ♥ J 8 5 ♦ J 10 9 5 3 2 ♣ Q 5 3
♠ Q J 7 6 3 2 ♥ 10 7 6 3 ♦ 6 ♣ 9 2	N W E S	♠ A K 5 ♥ K 4 ♦ Q 7 ♣ A K J 10 6 4
	♠ 9 8 4 ♥ A Q 9 2 ♦ A K 8 4 ♣ 8 7

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

Can you imagine any bidding and play which could produce twelve tricks at 3-No Trumps for East at one table and ten at 3-No Trumps for North at another on this tournament deal?

Combination Of Newspaper, Radio Interests Gets Nod For TV Station

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — A Federal Communications Commission examiner this week recommended that a combination of newspaper and radio interests in the Miami, Fla., area be given the nod for a new TV station there on the basis of past performance in public service.

The examiner, James D. Cunningham, who was referee in a four-way contest for TV channel 7, said it should be awarded to Biscayne Television Corp., affiliated with the Miami Herald and the Miami Daily News, and that the competing applications of three other non-newspaper, non-broadcasting companies should be denied.

These companies are East Coast Television Corp., South Florida Television Corp. and Sunbeam Television Corp. representing associations of diverse business interests. South Florida's board chairman is James Lawrence Fly, one-time FCC chairman now in private law practice.

Biscayne's president is Niles Trammell, former president of National Broadcasting Co., who owns 15 per cent of the stock. The remaining Biscayne stock is held equally by the Knight newspaper interests, publishing the Miami Herald, and the Cox newspaper interests, publishing the Miami Daily News.

Biscayne's vice-presidents are John S. Knight, president of Knight Newspapers, Inc., Akron, Ohio, and James M. Cox Jr., president of Journal-Herald Publishing Co. of Dayton, Ohio.

The examiner rejected contentions of the competing applicants that Biscayne should be ruled out in the interest of diversifying control of the media of mass communication.

Cunningham said that East Coast, South Florida and Sunbeam reflect more complete local residence and wider civic participation by their stockholders, but he asserted:

"Biscayne has demonstrated by actual performance that, during the years its principals held radio broadcast licenses for service in the Miami area, the stations involved were fully responsive to the community needs thereof, and that said licensees carried their plans and proposals for service into execution."

He said this gave promise of a similar performance in the TV field.

"It is pertinent to observe," he said, "that the record does not reveal the presence of unlawful practices or any evils in the Cox-Knight newspaper and broadcast operations; and that, with reference to the Miami area, they receive competition from several sources in the matter of disseminating news, information and ideas.

"Indeed, the finding is appropriate that, in connection with these (Cox-Knight) operations, there has been rendered a creditable public service at national and local levels."

The examiner said that to disqualify Biscayne because of its publishing and broadcasting affiliations "would be to inflict penalty without warrant and deprive Miami of a television service from the applicant herein found best to deliver it." He added:

"The commission's view is that radio and newspaper ownership by an applicant for television facilities is not a factor fatal to it, but is one to be weighed with other matters in comparative proceedings.

"Biscayne's clear superiority otherwise having been demonstrated, the finding is compelling that, in the circumstances here present, this factor may not be resolved adversely to it."

The FCC frequently decides cases on the basis of diversifying communications media ownership, having a stated policy that applicants without such media generally are favored, provided that all other factors in the contest are equal.

Cunningham's recommendation for Biscayne proposed a condition that the Knight radio outlets in Miami, WQAM and WQAM-FM, be disposed of and that the Cox stations there, WIOD and WIOD-FM, be acquired by the Biscayne company for further operation. This was specifically proposed by Biscayne itself during the hearing.

Market Continues Advance Despite Late Profit-Taking

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP) — The stock market went through its second straight recovery session today, but it ran into profit-taking late in the day.

The net advance of the entire market was good, however, and in two sessions the market now has retraced around 60 per cent of the severe loss in the Monday break.

There was a favorable background for an advance. President Eisenhower said the nation's economy was in good condition. The Federal Reserve, banking quarters say, believes that the current firming of interest rates reflects a quickened business pace.

Aircrafts both yesterday and today were leaders in the rise, but today some of them came under heavy selling for profits. Douglas Aircraft, for instance, hit a high of 126¾ before closing off 2¼ at 123¼. Boeing lost ½, General Dynamics added ⅛, but United Aircraft held to a 3-point gain at 77.

Railroads did quite well along with steels, oils, electrical equipment, and a sizable list of individual issues many of which rose rapidly on a handful of sales.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 80 cents at $150.90. It was up $1.30 yesterday. The industrial component of the average added $1.00, railroads were up $1.10, and utilities were ahead 20 cents.

Combination Of Newspaper, Radio Interests Gets Nod For TV Station

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — A Federal Communications Commission examiner this week recommended that a combination of newspaper and radio interests in the Miami, Fla., area be given the nod for a new TV station there on the basis of past performance in public service.

The examiner, James D. Cunningham, who was referee in a four-way contest for TV channel 7, said it should be awarded to Biscayne Television Corp., affiliated with the Miami Herald and the Miami Daily News, and that the competing applications of three other non-newspaper, non-broadcasting companies should be denied.

These companies are East Coast Television Corp., South Florida Television Corp. and Sunbeam Television Corp. representing associations of diverse business interests. South Florida's board chairman is James Lawrence Fly, one-time FCC chairman now in private law practice.

Biscayne's president is Niles Trammell, former president of National Broadcasting Co., who owns 15 per cent of the stock. The remaining Biscayne stock is held equally by the Knight newspaper interests, publishing the Miami Herald, and the Cox newspaper interests, publishing the Miami Daily News.

Biscayne's vice-presidents are John S. Knight, president of Knight Newspapers, Inc., Akron, Ohio, and James M. Cox Jr., president of Journal-Herald Publishing Co. of Dayton, Ohio.

Both the Cox and Knight interests operate various broadcasting facilities, including radio stations in Miami.

The examiner rejected contentions of the competing applicants that Biscayne should be ruled out in the interest of diversifying control of the media of mass communication.

Cunningham said that East Coast, South Florida and Sunbeam reflect more complete local residence and wider civic participation by their stockholders, but he asserted:

"Biscayne has demonstrated by actual performance that, during the years its principals held radio broadcast licenses for service in the Miami area, the stations involved were fully responsive to the community needs thereof, and that said licensees carried their plans and proposals for service into execution."

He said this gave promise of a similar performance in the TV field.

"It is pertinent to observe," he said, "that the record does not reveal the presence of unlawful practices or any evils in the Cox-Knight newspaper and broadcast operations; and that, with reference to the Miami area, they receive competition from several sources in the matter of disseminating news, information and ideas.

"Indeed, the finding is appropriate that, in connection with these (Cox-Knight) operations, there has been rendered a creditable public service at national and local levels."

The examiner said that to disqualify Biscayne because of its publishing and broadcasting affiliations "would be to inflict penalty without warrant and deprive Miami of a television service from the applicant herein found best to deliver it." He added:

"The commission's view is that radio and newspaper ownership by an applicant for television facilities is not a factor fatal to it, but is one to be weighed with other matters in comparative proceedings.

"Biscayne's clear superiority otherwise having been demonstrated, the finding is compelling that, in the circumstances here present, this factor may not be resolved adversely to it."

The FCC frequently decides cases on the basis of diversifying communications media ownership, having a stated policy that applicants without such media generally are favored, provided that all other factors in the contest are equal.

Cunningham's recommendation for Biscayne proposed a condition that the Knight radio outlets in Miami, WQAM and WQAM-FM, be disposed of and that the Cox stations there, WIOD and WIOD-FM, be acquired by the Biscayne company for further operation. This was specifically proposed by Biscayne itself during the hearing.

Market Continues Advance Despite Late Profit-Taking

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP) — The stock market went through its second straight recovery session today, but it ran into profit-taking late in the day.

The net advance of the entire market was good, however, and in two sessions the market now has retraced around 60 per cent of the severe loss in the Monday break.

There was a favorable background for an advance. President Eisenhower said the nation's economy was in good condition. The Federal Reserve, banking quarters say, believes that the current firming of interest rates reflects a quickened business pace.

Aircrafts both yesterday and today were leaders in the rise, but today some of them came under heavy selling for profits. Douglas Aircraft, for instance, hit a high of 126¾ before closing off 2¼ at 123¼. Boeing lost ½, General Dynamics added ⅛, but United Aircraft held to a 3-point gain at 77.

Railroads did quite well along with steels, oils, electrical equipment, and a sizable list of individual issues many of which rose rapidly on a handful of sales.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 80 cents at $150.90. It was up $1.30 yesterday. The industrial component of the average added $1.00, railroads were up $1.10, and utilities were ahead 20 cents.

Over 100 Civic Leaders Attend Alcoholic Forum

Speakers Give Views To Solve Problem

More than 100 citizens representing all walks of life crowded into City Hall Auditorium last night to attend an Institute on Alcoholism held under the sponsorship of the Allegany County Health Department.

Featured were seven talks which represented the medical, religious, legal and community approaches to the problem of alcoholism.

Leading off the discussion, Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, said the Health Department is interested in the problem, since alcoholism is definitely a disease.

He said there are at present five clinics in Maryland devoted to the problem drinker and that Allegany County is interested in adding an alcoholism clinic to its program.

Describes State Work

Joe B. Dellinger, chief of the Section on Alcoholic Studies of the State Health Department, described the work being done on the problem in Maryland, and offered to help in any program which may be set up here.

A doctor's views on Allegany County's problem drinkers was presented by Dr. Richard W. Trevaskis Jr., local psychiatrist.

People all over the world, he said, are interested in the problem. He outlined some of the latest developments in the medical treatment of alcoholics.

The activities of Alcoholics Anonymous in Allegany County was related by a member of the AA.

He said the organization formed here on September 11, 1947, is available to all who have an honest desire to stay away from drinking.

Tells Work Of Clergy

The work of the clergy in meeting the problem was outlined by Rev. Howard Amoss, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church in an address on pastoral counseling with the alcoholic and his family.

Dr. Tanash Atoynatan, a member of the staff of the University of Maryland's Psychiatric Institute discussed the treatment of the alcoholic in a clinical setting.

Paul M. Fletcher, state's attorney of Allegany County, discussed the court and drinking cases.

All of the speakers stressed the need of community cooperation and understanding in meeting the problems of the alcoholic.

Navy Conducts Inspection

Carpenters Forego Bid For Wage Boost

Announcement of the action, taken at a membership meeting Monday night, was made yesterday by F. Patrick Allender, business agent, and J. E. Mullenax, assistant business agent of the 250-member AFL local.

They said the members of the union felt that asking for a wage increase at the time Pittsburgh Plate Glass Plant Company is beginning construction on its North Branch plant would be breaking faith with labor's promise to cooperate in the Industrial Promotion Committee's plans for industrial expansion in this area.

Spokesmen said the members of the Carpenters Local also felt that a spiraling in labor costs here might jeopardize other plant expansion planned in the Cumberland area.

Means More Schools

Increased labor costs, they added, would also increase the cost of schools vitally needed in Allegany County, and mean that the limited funds available would buy less schools badly needed for the children.

They said the union has conferred with top contractors of the area on the outlook for work, and feels there will be more "take home pay" through increased work if wages are held at the present levels.

Allender and Mullenax said a "hold-the-line" policy may boost the actual wages of members of the union by from 30 to 40 per cent through providing more work.

They said members of the union last year worked an average of 30 weeks, and that more work is "better for the long pull."

Cite Work Backlog

The union cited work which will cost some $50,000,000 which is to be done in this area during the next two years. This includes the big plate glass plant, State Roads Commission road projects, the county school building program, flood control, the city's sewage treatment plant, the new DuPont plant expansion at Falling Waters, W. Va., near Martinsburg, and work planned by the West Virginia Conservation Commission at Cacapon State Park and Blackwater Falls State Park.

Could Be Delayed

They said their members have checked on the cost of living and reported that while some items are up, others have come down.

The union, they said, consider the prospect of work in this area good unless something happens to offset it.

They said the men considered that some of the construction work here could be delayed or even lost if wages spiral to the point where labor costs are not competitive with other areas.

The rate has been the same for the past three years. The local received a 10-cent wage increase in 1952 to bring the scale to the $2.50 mark.

Car License Fee Decision Put Off Until Next Week

Law Boosts Prices Starting This Year

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 19 (AP) — A group of lawmakers heard four hours of argument today on whether to let higher auto license fees go into effect April 1 but put off a decision until next week.

The State Roads Commission, armed with pamphlets of figures, argued before the Senate Finance Committee and a House subcommittee that it needs the extra money from license fee increases for upkeep of roads.

They said a postponement or elimination could seriously hamper the state's 12-year, 568-million-dollar highway program.

Representatives of automobile dealers, bus and truck operators joined sponsors of the measure in opposing the increase. They said it would hurt their businesses as well as adding a burden to taxpayers who already face nearly 30 million dollars in proposed new taxes this year.

Malkus Unconvinced

After the hearing, Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester), a co-sponsor of emergency bills which seek to forestall or eliminate the increase, said he was still unconvinced that the roads commission has to have the money. A number of other legislators expressed similar sentiment.

As the law now stands, Marylanders will pay from $5 to $7 more for their automobile license plates this year. Licenses for most passenger cars are scheduled to go up from $15 to $20, those on heavier cars from $23 to $30, and similar increases are scheduled for trucks and other heavy vehicles.

The raises were incorporated in the 12-year roads program for maintenance purposes when the program was adopted by the Legislature in 1953. An effort by Malkus and others to postpone them for a year succeeded in the Legislature last year but was killed with a veto from the governor.

If either of the current bills passes and Gov. McKeldin vetoes it, the Legislature would still have time to act on the veto before the increases take effect.

Necessary, Says McCain

Russell H. McCain, SRC chairman, described the higher license fees—expected to yield the State about 40 million dollars over a 12-year period—as one of the two legs on which the program stands.

The other is revenue from a one-cent increase on the gas tax which went into effect in 1953 and which pays for construction of roads.

"In our opinion," said McCain, "These bills would have a very serious detrimental effect on the program passed by the Legislature in 1953.

"The program has won national recognition. Maryland is one of only five states with a long range program and the only one with a method of financing it."

He said eliminating or even postponing the increase also would cost Baltimore City and the counties as heavily as the State. Of motor vehicle revenues, the State takes half, gives 30 per cent to Baltimore City for road maintenance and divides the remaining 20 per cent between the counties.

Del. Hughes On Adoption Committee

Delegate George R. Hughes Jr. has been named to a sub-committee of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Delegates to study the proposed revision of the adoption law.

Hughes, one of five members of the sub-committee, said a hearing on the proposed changes in the law will be held January 25.

Yesterday, the Allegany County Delegation discussed game law legislation with Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the State Department of Game and Inland Fish. He will meet again with the delegation at 10 a.m. February 2 to suggest concrete proposals.

The game and fish department had received communications from the Western Maryland Wildlife Association recommending several laws.

Among those discussed, according to Del. Fred B. Driscoll, was taking the restrictions off the slaying of spiked bucks, and the sale of confiscated hunting and fishing equipment.

Del. Driscoll said the current procedure by the department is to pool all confiscated equipment in Baltimore and have regular sales there.

The local delegates and the Western Maryland Wildlife group have concurred with the idea of having the equipment confiscated by game wardens sold at auction in the district in which it was seized.

Vaughn indicated yesterday that his department will request legislation for these two specific bills.

The regular weekly conference of the delegates recessed until this morning as a number of the delegation had to attend committee meetings.

The delegation also will meet formally again next Wednesday.

Judge Convicts Man On Appeal

Charles H. Smith, this city, was found guilty by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday of contributing to the delinquency of his 15-year-old granddaughter.

Smith had appealed from Juvenile Court where last June 7 Magistrate J. Milton Dick sentenced him to one year in the Maryland House of Correction. A similar sentence was imposed upon him yesterday but he will be allowed until Saturday to begin serving it.

In another appeal heard yesterday, Judge Harris found Charles H. McCarty, RFD 5, Winchester Road, not guilty of being drunk and disorderly and disturbing the peace. He appealed last September 30 when Cresaptown Trial Magistrate William E. Meagher fined him $15 and costs.

A trucker who appealed a guilty verdict handed him on a major traffic violation in Trial Magistrates Court here, was found not guilty by an Allegany County Circuit Court jury yesterday morning.

After testimony, Harold L. Miller, RFD 3, Everett, Pa., was acquitted on the count handed him in the lower court. Edward J. Ryan represented Miller and James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, presented the state's case.

Man Arrested For Alleged Scrap Theft

Breaking, Entering Probe Is Under Way

A local resident, John Clanagan, 20, of 174 Wineow Street, will be given a preliminary hearing today before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick in the alleged theft of some 515 pounds of copper, brass and scrap metal from the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, operated by Abe Feldstein on Wineow Street.

City Police Detective James E. Van last night said the Police Department was informed by Feldstein that his place was burglarized sometime Saturday night.

Clanagan was arrested by Lt. Van yesterday at 3:15 p. m. and following questioning, Van said, it was learned that he was involved in the theft of the scrap metal.

Included in the loot was some lead cable. Lt. Van said that Clanagan admitted breaking into a building at the scrap yard, carrying the metal to the upstairs and throwing it out a rear window to the vicinity of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

The scrap was then carried to the home of Clanagan and later was sold for $30, Van said.

Teen-Agers Damage Infirmary

Meanwhile the City Police Detective Bureau is working on a breaking and entering at the News Center, formerly known as Reynolds Cigar Store, 17 South Centre Street, which was broken into Tuesday night by five teen-agers, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years of age.

Considerable damage, according to Detective Joseph H. Stitcher, was caused last night when two of the youths, who were taken out to the detention quarters of Allegany County Infirmary went on a rampage, destroying property at the infirmary.

Police brought the two boys in to the city lockup. Also being held in the local jail is Robert Adams, 18, of 209 Hay Street. Two other boys were released into the custody of their parents and will be given a hearing Saturday in Juvenile Court.

Loot Recovered

Detective Stitcher said he went to the home of one of the boys last night and recovered a watch which reportedly had been taken in the loot including four cartons of cigarets, three wrist watches, camera flash bulbs and a cigaret lighter.

The other items, taken about 9:20 p. m., were found buried near the Western Maryland Railway freight station. Detective Stitcher last night said he and Officer Kenneth Morrissey went to the infirmary and brought the two boys to the local jail.

Detective Stitcher said the boys had gone into the local business place prior to closing time and one of them unlocked a rear window.

It was through the window that the boys gained entrance and forced an inside door to get to the merchandise. A tip which led to the arrest of the boys was given to Detective Stitcher by Officer Carl Williams who recalled a description of two of the teen-agers.

Assisting in the questioning of the boys was Lt. James E. Van.

Chain Letter Senders Face Prosecution

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 19 (AP) —Postal inspectors said today the government is getting ready to prosecute a number of persons in connection with a chain letter scheme involving U. S. savings bonds.

The postal inspectors, who asked that their names not be used, said they had been in the Hagerstown area for some time investigating the chain letters.

The inspectors said their investigations indicate about 300 $25 savings bonds have been purchased in Hagerstown in connection with the chain letter scheme. Many of them were mailed to Harrisonburg, Va., and Petersburg, W. Va.

The inspectors said the use of the mail for any variation of an "endless chain" scheme is illegal and advised any person receiving a bond as the result of the scheme to return it to the sender.

Neighbors Aid Stricken Area Family

Residents of the Tri-Towns are pitching in to aid Clifford Doman, his wife, and six children who were left homeless Morday afternoon when the explosion of a gasoline stove in the kitchen of their residence near Hampshire, W. Va. destroyed the home.

At present the family is living at the home of a sister of Doman, Mrs. Geraldine Trenum, at Franklin, near Westernport.

Wayne Ritchie, chairman of the United Organizations of the Tri-Towns last night reported that the group had provided the family with clothing and also purchased new clothing.

Groceries were also provided, according to Ritchie. A place of residence is now being sought by Doman, who is unemployed. Residents of the Tri-Towns area who have excess furniture on hand are being asked to give it to the stricken family.

The Piedmont Chapter of the American Red Cross has also donated clothing. Anyone desiring to give toward the rehabilitation of the family may contact Ritchie at Westernport or Wilbur Johnson, president of Local 676, UPA (CIO) at the union office in Westernport.

Pennsylvanian Is Killed In Railroad Mishap

Truck Rolls Over On Pensyl Mearkle

A 67-year-old Pennsylvania man, who lived near Everett, was killed yesterday afternoon in an unusual accident which occurred on a private railroad crossing of the Everett Railroad Company at West Providence Township.

The mishap, which occurred at 2:50 p. m., happened in the southwest section of Everett. Another man who was driving a truck involved in the accident escaped injury, according to Pennsylvania State Police.

The dead man was listed as Pensyl Mearkle, who was riding in the cab of a truck operated by Rutherford B. Williams, 78, of Everett.

Williams, according to police, was travelling west and had gone over the crossing and continued to a small incline. The truck stalled, police said, and the operator, who thought he had run out of gas, drifted the vehicle back over the crossing, where it came to a stop.

Mearkle apparently did not see the car but got out of the truck. After the railroad car struck the vehicle the truck turned over and Mearkle was pinned underneath.

Conductor on the railroad car was Wilmer C. Eishleberger, 64, of Saxton, Pa. Investigating for the Pennsylvania State Police is Pfc. Robert Etter, of the Bedford detachment.

The victim's body was taken to the Connor Funeral Home in Everett.

Westernport And Piedmont Study Curfew On Children

The Mayor and Council of Westernport last night gave the first reading to an ordinance which would slap a curfew on children under 16 years of age who are found on the streets or in public places between 10:30 p. m. and 5 a. m. each day.

Neighboring Piedmont's Mayor and Council also met last night and approved of the idea for a curfew on children. Their attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance similar to the one considered by Westernport.

Besides not being permitted on the streets during the six-and-one-half hour period, the youngsters would not be able to frequent any public place during those hours. The restrictions would not apply when the child is in the company of a parent or guardian.

A second provision is aimed at the owners of public places. They would be liable for fine if they permitted youngsters in their places of business between 10:30 p. m. and 5 a. m.

If a child 16 years of age or younger were caught violating the curfew his parents would be subject to a maximum fine of $25 or 30 days in jail in default of fine payment. Operators of public places would be dealt with even more severely. Their maximum fine would be $50.

Property Tax, Constitution Bills Back In Legislature

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Two old favorites, the State property tax and constitutional convention, were back in the Legislature today.

Sen. Goldstein (D-Calvert) reintroduced his bill that would end dedication of the property tax to pay off bonds after July 1. This could in effect eliminate the tax on real estate and is similar to a bill introduced previously in the House.

The amount of the tax is geared directly to the amount of bonds outstanding for capital improvements. This year it is 11 cents on $100 of assessed value.

Twenty-two delegates are making another effort to call a convention to frame a new State constitution. The Legislature several times in the past has refused to pass the same bill.

The main objection is lodged in the smaller counties which are afraid the new constitution would revise representation in the General Assembly to their detriment.

Del. Hodges (D-Balto 6th) proposed that a course on the U. S. Constitution be mandatory in elementary schools of the state.

Sen. Mattingly (D-St. Mary's) sought to have his county included among those providing jury service for women. This would leave only Calvert, Carroll, Garrett and Howard where women are barred.

Sen. North (D-Talbot) set out to make the law on cruelty to animals constitutional. It now declares it to be a misdemeanor, but fails to set the punishment. North's bill makes it a maximum fine of $100 or 30 days in jail.

Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) asked that his county commissioners be allowed to exempt from taxation new industries for 10 years.

Over 100 Civic Leaders Attend Alcoholic Forum

Speakers Give Views To Solve Problem

More than 100 citizens representing all walks of life crowded into City Hall Auditorium last night to attend an Institute on Alcoholism held under the sponsorship of the Allegany County Health Department.

Featured were seven talks which represented the medical, religious, legal and community approaches to the problem of alcoholism.

Leading off the discussion, Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, said the Health Department is interested in the problem, since alcoholism is definitely a disease.

He said there are at present five clinics in Maryland devoted to the problem drinker and that Allegany County is interested in adding an alcoholism clinic to its program.

Describes State Work

Joe B. Dellinger, chief of the Section on Alcoholic Studies of the State Health Department, described the work being done on the problem in Maryland, and offered to help in any program which may be set up here.

A doctor's views on Allegany County's problem drinkers was presented by Dr. Richard W. Trevaskis Jr., local psychiatrist.

People all over the world, he said, are interested in the problem. He outlined some of the latest developments in the medical treatment of alcoholics.

Part of the problem here, he said, is now being met by the Health Department's mental hygiene clinic facilities.

The activities of Alcoholics Anonymous in Allegany County was related by a member of the AA.

He said the organization formed here on September 11, 1947, is available to all who have an honest desire to stay away from drinking.

Tells Work Of Clergy

The work of the clergy in meeting the problem was outlined by Rev. Howard Amoss, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church in an address on pastoral counseling with the alcoholic and his family.

Dr. Tanash Atoynatan, a member of the staff of the University of Maryland's Psychiatric Institute discussed the treatment of the alcoholic in a clinical setting.

Paul M. Fletcher, state's attorney of Allegany County, discussed the court and drinking cases.

All of the speakers stressed the need of community cooperation and understanding in meeting the problems of the alcoholic.

Navy Conducts Inspection

Carpenters Forego Bid For Wage Boost

Members of Local 1024, Carpenters Union (AFL), have voted to forego a request for a wage increase when construction contracts are signed this spring.

Announcement of the action, taken at a membership meeting Monday night, was made yesterday by F. Patrick Allender, business agent, and J. E. Mullenax, assistant business agent of the 250-member AFL local.

They said the members of the union felt that asking for a wage increase at the time Pittsburgh Plate Glass Plant Company is beginning construction on its North Branch plant would be breaking faith with labor's promise to cooperate in the Industrial Promotion Committee's plans for industrial expansion in this area.

Spokesmen said the members of the Carpenters Local also felt that a spiraling in labor costs here might jeopardize other plant expansion planned in the Cumberland area.

Means More Schools

Increased labor costs, they added, would also increase the cost of schools vitally needed in Allegany County, and mean that the limited funds available would buy less schools badly needed for the children.

They said the union has conferred with top contractors of the area on the outlook for work, and feels there will be more "take home pay" through increased work if wages are held at the present levels.

Allender and Mullenax said a "hold-the-line" policy may boost the actual wages of members of the union by from 30 to 40 per cent through providing more work.

They said members of the union last year worked an average of 30 weeks, and that more work is "better for the long pull."

Cite Work Backlog

The union cited work which will cost some $50,000,000 which is to be done in this area during the next two years. This includes the big plate glass plant, State Roads Commission road projects, the county school building program, flood control, the city's sewage treatment plant, the new DuPont plant expansion at Falling Waters, W. Va., near Martinsburg, and work planned by the West Virginia Conservation Commission at Cacapon State Park and Blackwater Falls State Park.

Could Be Delayed

They said their members have checked on the cost of living and reported that while some items are up, others have come down.

The union, they said, consider the prospect of work in this area good unless something happens to offset it.

They said the men considered that some of the construction work here could be delayed or even lost if wages spiral to the point where labor costs are not competitive with other areas.

The rate has been the same for the past three years. The local received a 10-cent wage increase in 1952 to bring the scale to the $2.50 mark.

Car License Fee Decision Put Off Until Next Week

Law Boosts Prices Starting This Year

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 19 (AP) — A group of lawmakers heard four hours of argument today on whether to let higher auto license fees go into effect April 1 but put off a decision until next week.

The State Roads Commission, armed with pamphlets of figures, argued before the Senate Finance Committee and a House subcommittee that it needs the extra money from license fee increases for upkeep of roads.

They said a postponement or elimination could seriously hamper the state's 12-year, 568-million-dollar highway program.

Representatives of automobile dealers, bus and truck operators joined sponsors of the measure in opposing the increase. They said it would hurt their businesses as well as adding a burden to taxpayers who already face nearly 30 million dollars in proposed new taxes this year.

Malkus Unconvinced

After the hearing, Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester), a co-sponsor of emergency bills which seek to forestall or eliminate the increase, said he was still unconvinced that the roads commission has to have the money. A number of other legislators expressed similar sentiment.

As the law now stands, Marylanders will pay from $5 to $7 more for their automobile license plates this year. Licenses for most passenger cars are scheduled to go up from $15 to $20, those on heavier cars from $23 to $30, and similar increases are scheduled for trucks and other heavy vehicles.

The raises were incorporated in the 12-year roads program for maintenance purposes when the program was adopted by the Legislature in 1953. An effort by Malkus and others to postpone them for a year succeeded in the Legislature last year but was killed with a veto from the governor.

If either of the current bills passes and Gov. McKeldin vetoes it, the Legislature would still have time to act on the veto before the increases take effect.

Necessary, Says McCain

Russell H. McCain, SRC chairman, described the higher license fees—expected to yield the State about 40 million dollars over a 12-year period—as one of the two legs on which the program stands.

The other is revenue from a one-cent increase on the gas tax which went into effect in 1953 and which pays for construction of roads.

"In our opinion," said McCain, "These bills would have a very serious detrimental effect on the program passed by the Legislature in 1953.

"The program has won national recognition. Maryland is one of only five states with a long range program and the only one with a method of financing it."

He said eliminating or even postponing the increase also would cost Baltimore City and the counties as heavily as the State. Of motor vehicle revenues, the State takes half, gives 30 per cent to Baltimore City for road maintenance and divides the remaining 20 per cent between the counties.

Del. Hughes On Adoption Committee

Delegate George R. Hughes Jr. has been named to a sub-committee of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Delegates to study the proposed revision of the adoption law.

Hughes, one of five members of the sub-committee, said a hearing on the proposed changes in the law will be held January 25.

Yesterday, the Allegany County Delegation discussed game law legislation with Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the State Department of Game and Inland Fish. He will meet again with the delegation at 10 a.m. February 2 to suggest concrete proposals.

The game and fish department had received communications from the Western Maryland Wildlife Association recommending several laws.

Among those discussed, according to Del. Fred B. Driscoll, was taking the restrictions off the slaying of spiked bucks, and the sale of confiscated hunting and fishing equipment.

Del. Driscoll said the current procedure by the department is to pool all confiscated equipment in Baltimore and have regular sales there.

The local delegates and the Western Maryland Wildlife group have concurred with the idea of having the equipment confiscated by game wardens sold at auction in the district in which it was seized.

Vaughn indicated yesterday that his department will request legislation for these two specific bills.

The regular weekly conference of the delegates recessed until this morning as a number of the delegation had to attend committee meetings.

The delegation also will meet formally again next Wednesday.

Judge Convicts Man On Appeal

Charles H. Smith, this city, was found guilty by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday of contributing to the delinquency of his 15-year-old granddaughter.

Smith had appealed from Juvenile Court where last June 7 Magistrate J. Milton Dick sentenced him to one year in the Maryland House of Correction. A similar sentence was imposed upon him yesterday but he will be allowed until Saturday to begin serving it.

In another appeal heard yesterday, Judge Harris found Charles H. McCarty, RFD 5, Winchester Road, not guilty of being drunk and disorderly and disturbing the peace. He appealed last September 30 when Cresaptown Trial Magistrate William E. Meagher fined him $15 and costs.

A trucker who appealed a guilty verdict handed him on a major traffic violation in Trial Magistrates Court here, was found not guilty by an Allegany County Circuit Court jury yesterday morning.

After testimony, Harold L. Miller, RFD 3, Everett, Pa., was acquitted on the count handed him in the lower court. Edward J. Ryan represented Miller and James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, presented the state's case.

Man Arrested For Alleged Scrap Theft

Breaking, Entering Probe Is Under Way

A local resident, John Clanagan, 20, of 174 Wineow Street, will be given a preliminary hearing today before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick in the alleged theft of some 515 pounds of copper, brass and scrap metal from the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, operated by Abe Feldstein on Wineow Street.

City Police Detective James E. Van last night said the Police Department was informed by Feldstein that his place was burglarized sometime Saturday night.

Clanagan was arrested by Lt. Van yesterday at 3:15 p. m. and following questioning, Van said, it was learned that he was involved in the theft of the scrap metal.

Included in the loot was some lead cable. Lt. Van said that Clanagan admitted breaking into a building at the scrap yard, carrying the metal to the upstairs and throwing it out a rear window to the vicinity of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

The scrap was then carried to the home of Clanagan and later was sold for $30, Van said.

Teen-Agers Damage Infirmary

Meanwhile the City Police Detective Bureau is working on a breaking and entering at the News Center, formerly known as Reynolds Cigar Store, 17 South Centre Street, which was broken into Tuesday night by five teen-agers, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years of age.

Considerable damage, according to Detective Joseph H. Stitcher, was caused last night when two of the youths, who were taken out to the detention quarters of Allegany County Infirmary went on a rampage, destroying property at the infirmary.

Police brought the two boys in to the city lockup. Also being held in the local jail is Robert Adams, 18, of 209 Hay Street. Two other boys were released into the custody of their parents and will be given a hearing Saturday in Juvenile Court.

Loot Recovered

Detective Stitcher said he went to the home of one of the boys last night and recovered a watch which reportedly had been taken in the loot including four cartons of cigarets, three wrist watches, camera flash bulbs and a cigaret lighter.

The other items, taken about 9:20 p. m., were found buried near the Western Maryland Railway freight station. Detective Stitcher last night said he and Officer Kenneth Morrissey went to the infirmary and brought the two boys to the local jail.

Detective Stitcher said the boys had gone into the local business place prior to closing time and one of them unlocked a rear window.

It was through the window that the boys gained entrance and forced an inside door to get to the merchandise. A tip which led to the arrest of the boys was given to Detective Stitcher by Officer Carl Williams who recalled a description of two of the teen-agers.

Assisting in the questioning of the boys was Lt. James E. Van.

Chain Letter Senders Face Prosecution

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 19 (AP) —Postal inspectors said today the government is getting ready to prosecute a number of persons in connection with a chain letter scheme involving U. S. savings bonds.

The postal inspectors, who asked that their names not be used, said they had been in the Hagerstown area for some time investigating the chain letters.

The inspectors said their investigations indicate about 300 $25 savings bonds have been purchased in Hagerstown in connection with the chain letter scheme. Many of them were mailed to Harrisonburg, Va., and Petersburg, W. Va.

The inspectors said the use of the mail for any variation of an "endless chain" scheme is illegal and advised any person receiving a bond as the result of the scheme to return it to the sender.

The selection of the winner is based upon scholastic achievement in science, with incidental consideration of general academic standing, qualities of leadership, and extra-curricular activities.

Neighbors Aid Stricken Area Family

Residents of the Tri-Towns are pitching in to aid Clifford Doman, his wife, and six children who were left homeless Morday afternoon when the explosion of a gasoline stove in the kitchen of their residence near Hampshire, W. Va. destroyed the home.

At present the family is living at the home of a sister of Doman, Mrs. Geraldine Trenum, at Franklin, near Westernport.

Wayne Ritchie, chairman of the United Organizations of the Tri-Towns last night reported that the group had provided the family with clothing and also purchased new clothing.

Groceries were also provided, according to Ritchie. A place of residence is now being sought by Doman, who is unemployed. Residents of the Tri-Towns area who have excess furniture on hand are being asked to give it to the stricken family.

The Piedmont Chapter of the American Red Cross has also donated clothing. Anyone desiring to give toward the rehabilitation of the family may contact Ritchie at Westernport or Wilbur Johnson, president of Local 676, UPA (CIO) at the union office in Westernport.

Pennsylvanian Is Killed In Railroad Mishap

Truck Rolls Over On Pensyl Mearkle

A 67-year-old Pennsylvania man, who lived near Everett, was killed yesterday afternoon in an unusual accident which occurred on a private railroad crossing of the Everett Railroad Company at West Providence Township.

The mishap, which occurred at 2:50 p. m., happened in the southwest section of Everett. Another man who was driving a truck involved in the accident escaped injury, according to Pennsylvania State Police.

The dead man was listed as Pensyl Mearkle, who was riding in the cab of a truck operated by Rutherford B. Williams, 78, of Everett.

Williams, according to police, was travelling west and had gone over the crossing and continued to a small incline. The truck stalled, police said, and the operator, who thought he had run out of gas, drifted the vehicle back over the crossing, where it came to a stop.

A shifter released a railroad car and it hit the truck on the right side. The operator noticed the approaching car and jumped from the truck.

Mearkle apparently did not see the car but got out of the truck. After the railroad car struck the vehicle the truck turned over and Mearkle was pinned underneath.

Conductor on the railroad car was Wilmer C. Eishleberger, 64, of Saxton, Pa. Investigating for the Pennsylvania State Police is Pfc. Robert Etter, of the Bedford detachment.

Westernport And Piedmont Study Curfew On Children

The Mayor and Council of Westernport last night gave the first reading to an ordinance which would slap a curfew on children under 16 years of age who are found on the streets or in public places between 10:30 p. m. and 5 a. m. each day.

Neighboring Piedmont's Mayor and Council also met last night and approved of the idea for a curfew on children. Their attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance similar to the one considered by Westernport.

Besides not being permitted on the streets during the six-and-one-half hour period, the youngsters would not be able to frequent any public place during those hours. The restrictions would not apply when the child is in the company of a parent or guardian.

A second provision is aimed at the owners of public places. They would be liable for fine if they permitted youngsters in their places of business between 10:30 p. m. and 5 a. m.

If a child 16 years of age or younger were caught violating the curfew his parents would be subject to a maximum fine of $25 or 30 days in jail in default of fine payment. Operators of public places would be dealt with even more severely. Their maximum fine would be $50.

Property Tax, Constitution Bills Back In Legislature

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Two old favorites, the State property tax and constitutional convention, were back in the Legislature today.

Sen. Goldstein (D-Calvert) reintroduced his bill that would end dedication of the property tax to pay off bonds after July 1. This could in effect eliminate the tax on real estate and is similar to a bill introduced previously in the House.

The amount of the tax is geared directly to the amount of bonds outstanding for capital improvements. This year it is 11 cents on $100 of assessed value.

Twenty-two delegates are making another effort to call a convention to frame a new State constitution. The Legislature several times in the past has refused to pass the same bill.

The main objection is lodged in the smaller counties which are afraid the new constitution would revise representation in the General Assembly to their detriment.

Del. Hodges (D-Balto 6th) proposed that a course on the U. S. Constitution be mandatory in elementary schools of the state.

Sen. Mattingly (D-St. Mary's) sought to have his county included among those providing jury service for women. This would leave only Calvert, Carroll, Garrett and Howard where women are barred.

Sen. North (D-Talbot) set out to make the law on cruelty to animals constitutional. It now declares it to be a misdemeanor, but fails to set the punishment. North's bill makes it a maximum fine of $100 or 30 days in jail.

Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) asked that his county commissioners be allowed to exempt from taxation new industries for 10 years.
